Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Crawford were called to Portland Sunday evening to be present there on Monday for funeral services for a cousin of Mrs. Crawford's, Archie Robbins, who was accidentally killed when struck by an automobile near Tenino, Wash., several days previous. Mr. Robbins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robbins of Portland, the elder Mr. Robbins being known here for his work as architect for the Masonic building. Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Githens, also came from their home at Berkeley, Cal., and remained for a visit with relatives in the valley. They expected to visit in Heppner for a few days before returning south.

In trying to catch all the young men and young women who recently went away to college, this paper failed to pick up Joe Aiken, last year H. H. S. graduate and prominent athletically. Joe has gone to Ellensburg to attend teachers college while seeking further athletic heights under the tutelage of Leo Nicholson, former Heppner high and U. of W. star athlete who now heads the physical education department at the Ellensburg school. A member of the coaching staff under Nicholson is George Mabee, former high school coach here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and family arrived the end of the week to be with Mr. Smith's mother in her last illness, and remained for funeral services yesterday. Mr. Smith was born and reared in the Heppner vicinity, but has resided elsewhere for many years, and now follows the carpentering trade in Portland. Two elder sons of Mr. and Mrs. Smith were prevented from coming by work in the city. Frank's many old-time friends here recognized little change in him through the years he has been away.

R. H. Steers and son, S. A. Steers, of Hardman were in the city yesterday, reporting that each had landed his buck on a hunt Tuesday, weighing 188 and 194 pounds respectively. Mr. Steers' second son had also taken his buck, making three for the family this season. Last year Mrs. Steers got her a license also, and the family all got their meat. Mr. Steers and son expected to leave Friday for a doe hunt in Grant county, providing their work with Bill Greener's logging crew permitted.

Two Missouri boys think the Morrow county hills about tops. Especially since they had the privilege of helping carry out a deer last week end. The deer was the kill of Oscar Rippee, and the Missouri boys are Lawrence Privett, brother, and Lloyd Camp, grand nephew of Mrs. Tim Rippee, who visited at the Rippee home for several days before leaving on the return to their home at Ava, Mo., on Monday. They and Mr. Rippee hunted in company with Oscar from Pilot Rock, Sunday.

"You can tell the world the mis-sus has got me beat," said L. H. Harlow. Mr. Harlow himself bagged a small two-point buck the week before, but in Sunday's hunt, Mrs. Harlow landed a three-pointer. Another fortunate lady hunter reported this week is Mrs. Tom Howell, she and Mr. Howell each getting their buck. Lester Doolittle also brought in his kill this week.

Another lucky Amazon is Mrs. Bert Kane. She wounded a big buck while hunting Monday evening and a call to town brought her husband to the scene to assist in the search which proved fruitful Tuesday morning and Mrs. Kane got to finish the kill. Weighed in over local scales Tuesday afternoon, the animal tipped them at 182 pounds.

Paul Phelan is relieving Burl Coxen at the latter's barber shop this week while Burl is enjoying a deer hunt. Paul, who runs a little shop of his own in Portland, took advantage of the opportunity to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Phelan, and many friends here.

Mrs. Anna Heiny was visiting this week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Ferguson, coming from her home near Portland.

Logie Richardson and Clare Frazier left town Tuesday afternoon, headed for the tall timber, this time not as representatives of Bridal Veil Lumber and Box company, for whom they act as agents, but as serious hunters determined to bring back their bucks, and supplies to last several days if necessary to accomplish their purpose.

Miss Lucille Barlow returned home, this week from a motor trip to the San Francisco fair, made in company with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Akers of Portland. Enjoyability of the trip going south was marred by Miss Barlow having an attack of influenza which delayed the party at an auto camp for several days.

Neil Doherty was a business visitor in Heppner Wednesday from his Wells Springs ranch. He was called here in connection with the annual meeting of Taylor Grazing district. Rain and a lot of it would be welcome in his district, Mr. Doherty stated.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farley of John Day announce the arrival of a son, John Michael, born in John Day town last Thursday, the 12th. The new arrival is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Farley of this city.

Mrs. Lulu G. Rumble has received word of the birth of a daughter, yesterday, to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Shroeder, at Burbank, Cal. Mrs. Shroeder was formerly Miss Dorothy Herren.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Juday of Portland visited over the week end at the home of Mrs. Juday's mother, Mrs. Mary Hughes. Mrs. Hughes and Miss Florence Paul accompanied them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buhman went to Baker Saturday, ahead of time for the regional teachers' conference, to visit at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Turner, former Heppnerites.

Mrs. Charles Hemrich and son Raymond are visiting at the home of Mrs. Hemrich's daughter, Mrs. Edmond Gonty, coming from their home at Beaverton.

Ruth Green went to Pendleton Thursday on a business trip.

People absent during the week were: Willie Stone, Bruce Lindsay, Guy Moore, Howard Wray, Edna Stephens, Jeanette Blakely, Bud Blakely, Douglas Drake, Laura Warfield, Frances Wilkinson.

The sophomore class has quite a record. No boys have been absent and only one girl during the entire six weeks. Keep it up, sophomores.

At the recent Girls' League meeting the entertainment committee gave a short program on how to escort a girl to and from an entertainment, how to act at a dance, and how to act in a theater. The program also included a song by Pat Dooley. A committee was appointed to see about selling programs at the Armistice day game but it was postponed till it is certain that the student body does not plan to sell them. Committees for the coming dance were appointed, and have started work on the costume ball to be held on the 27th.

Sophomore Assembly

The sophomores put on a successful assembly last Friday morning. Their program consisted of two songs, "Moon Love" and "Especially For You," by Lucille Barlow, accompanied by Mary Emma Curran; two oboe solos, "Strange Enchantment" and "Poured My Heart Into a Song," by Peg Tambllyn, accompanied by Mr. Peavy. Last but far from least was the latest news, scandal and dirt of the student body from John S.

F. F. A. Party

Friday evening the F. F. A. boys gave the Home Ec girls a party. They were entertained with dancing and games. Two prize dances were given, one for the most comical, won by Dorothy Howell and Guy Moore; and the other a prize waltz, won by Joe Farley and Dorothy Howell. Refreshments of sandwiches and chocolate were served at the end of the entertainment.

Pep Club Sweaters

The Pep club held a meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 10, for the purpose of deciding whether or not the members wished to buy sweaters. After much discussion they decided to buy white slip-on sweaters with the letters PEP across the front.

Fashion Flashes

Heading the fashions for the girls this week were Norma Prock and Pat Dooley. Norma wore a black pleated skirt and white blouse, topped by a red hand-knit sweater. Pat wore a brown skirt with a green blouse and a brown and tan Cardigan jacket.

For the boys' fashions of the week were Jack Merrill and Lowell Ashbaugh. Jack wore green trousers and a grey shirt. Lowell was wearing black trousers, a light shirt, and a sleeveless sweater.
