

Local News

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Helms were business callers in the city Monday from the Butter creek farm. Just for a little sightseeing, the Helms family filled their lunch basket and motored to Grand Coulee dam the day before. The round trip of 566 miles from their place was made easily in the one day with more than an hour spent at the big dam. That world's largest single piece of masonry had the appearance of a busmen's holiday, they said, it being estimated that 20,000 cars visited the dam that day and there was no specially advertised attraction to draw them. It will be some six years yet before the dam will impound water, reported Mr. and Mrs. Helms, but they said that anyone who has not seen this project has missed a sight of their lives.

F. F. Wehmeyer, ranger in charge of the local forest district, gets to see plenty of game in connection with his work in the timbered area but doesn't find much time to hunt. He therefore satisfied himself with a little two-point buck on a recent hunt in company with his son Don. The Wehmeyer family made another special hunting jaunt to the timber last Sunday and though Don did not fill his tag all were rewarded by the sight of one band of 60 elk and more than a hundred doe and fawn.

Flustered by confusion that prevailed in the city water department when Mrs. Bert Kane, clerk, brought in her big buck last week, the Gazette Times reporter failed to make proper note of the kill made by J. O. Rasmus, watermaster. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus returned last week from a week's hunt in possession of a "nice little fellow," as Orve put it.

Mrs. W. W. Sanderson of Beaverton visited in Heppner Saturday while in the county on business in connection with property interests at Ione. Mrs. Sanderson was formerly Miss Lillie Allinger who resided here several years ago while serving the late Farmers and Stockgrowers National bank as assistant cashier and cashier.

F. H. Gray, Portland, manager of a city lumber yard, arrived here Saturday for an over-Sunday deer hunt with T. Babb, local contractor. The day's hunt was fruitless, but Mr. Gray reported the disconcerting experience of having winged a nice buck which could not be located after many hours of trailing.

One list of recent fortunate buck hunters picked up on the rounds this week included "Pat" Cason, Chas. Carty, W. S. Bennett, Henry Peterson, C. A. Warren and Emery Coxen. Lockers at local markets are groaning with the heaviest fill of venison in years.

Jim Burnside reported Monday that he wears hip-high rubber boots and carries a fishing pole every time he goes after the cows at the Hardman farm these days. Just Jim's way of exaggerating the lack of rainfall that has visited his farm in recent weeks.

John W. Maidment and son, C. W. Maidment, are transacting business in Heppner today from their ranch at Lone Rock. Rain and lots of it is the crying need in the Lone Rock area as well as all other sections of the country, the visitors commented.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ferguson went to Eugene Saturday in time for the Oregon-Gonzaga football game and then journeyed on to Grants Pass for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tetz. They returned home late Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomas of Boise, Idaho, arrived Monday for a visit of two days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tamblin. Mr. Thomas, a brother of Mrs. Tamblin's, is a restaurant proprietor in the Idaho capital.

Willows Grange Building New Hall

Construction of a home for Willows grange is under way in Ione, where a force of workmen are erecting the building on property recently acquired for that purpose in the north part of town. The new hall will supplant the present home of the grange at Cecil.

When it was decided to build a new hall the matter of a change of location was also presented. While Cecil is more nearly the geographical center of the Willows jurisdiction, it is no longer the population center. A site was sought farther up the creek and after due consideration the building committee chose a lot just at the town limits of Ione.

The new building is designed to meet not only present needs but future needs as well. It is 40 feet in width and has a depth of 80 feet. There will be a full basement providing space for an ample kitchen, rest rooms, furnace room, a juvenile grange room and a 36 x 40 dining room. Generous allowance for light and ventilation has been made in the eight-foot concrete basement walls.

On the main floor there will be a large stage with the usual complement of dressing rooms. It is the plan of the builders to enhance in every way possible the regular grange work and special entertainments. Provision for motion pictures is included and for this purpose a projecting room will be built on a third elevation with a stairway leading from the main floor.

To relieve the plain exterior usually featuring such halls, the new hall will have a decorative entrance, or a "front porch." This will be constructed to permit entrance on two levels, the basement and the main floor. Two concrete pillars to support the floor of the main entrance and the roof over the entrance will likewise provide clearance for the basement entrance. Stairs will be built on either side of the porch.

The building committee has received donations of materials, money and labor to cover a considerable part of the cost of the building. The balance will be financed through bonds purchased by members.

In pouring the concrete for the basement walls something of a record was established, according to O. L. Lundell, who is taking a leading part in the building enterprise. A crew of 19 men completed the job in six and three-quarters hours, which is some mark to shoot at, Lundell stated.

When completed, the new Willows grange hall will be one of the best in this area. It is the hope of the builders that it may be ready for use early in the forthcoming year.
