Tractor Short Course Set at O.S.C. Soon

A three-weeks tractor and farm power machinery short course has been scheduled for Nov. 27 to Dec. 16 by the agricultural engineering department at Oregon State college. This will be similar to the short course held two years ago, but will be more complete and will deal with more modern types of farm power equipment.
All types of tractors—crawler and wheel, gasoline and Diesel—and their various major accessories, will be studied by students under the direction of the departmental staff and of experts from the leading tractor companies. As was the case two years ago, the course will be open to all farmers or adult students of any age who are interested, on the payment of a flat tuition fee of $10, to cover operating costs of the three-weeks course. Application blanks are being made available at the offices of county agents or may be obtained direct from the department at Corvallis.
For Rent: A very convenient and well watered sheep range at Alderdale, Wash. Contains 2300 acres with other lands available. Inquire of Wm. Warner, Alderdale, Wash. 34-6
