Facts About Our Students

For facts about our students this week, Miss Shirley Wilson, our student body secretary has been chosen. Shirley is 17 years old and was born in Heppner on June 8, 1922. In addition to holding the office of student body secretary, Shirley is the secretary of the student body and the Pep club. She also has one of the leads in the senior play.

On being asked what her hobby was, Shirley said, "Collecting stuff and filling scrap books." Shirley's favorite boy on week days, Sundays, and holidays is Bill Blake. The rest of the time she devotes to school work.

This should not be mistaken for a personal opinion but Shirley stated that on completing high school, she intended to attend college to take accounting.

In Shirley's ideal boy she places personality first, then neatness. She didn't rate athletic ability.

Armistice Day Program Held

An interesting Armistice Day program was held last Friday, Nov. 10, in the high school auditorium, for the high school and seventh and eighth grades. The assembly was opened by the flag salute led by Raymond Parrish. The program consisted of "America," sung by the audience, led by Miss McElhinny; a baritone solo, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," by Hugh Crawford, accompanied by Dorothy Howell; "God Bless America," by Lucille Barlow, and songs, "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Goin' Home," by the grade school chorus, led by Miss Forsythe and accompanied by Virginia Dix.

Mr. Harry Tamblin, who served in the World war, was the main speaker. He spoke on "The Glory of War."

The closing song, "The Star Spangled Banner," was sung by the audience.

National Book Week

This week has been set aside as National Book week. The object of this is to make the people more book conscious.

Better than a crystal ball are the services of your library. At your command are batteries of encyclopedias and other reference books, magazines for investigation and for keeping continually well-informed on the current happenings, novels for recreation and a friendly librarian to help you select book or find the information you need.

In your school library as well as in the city library you should guard against being the person who is always too noisy, the patron who sees that the library does not close up early, or the patron who didn't know the library closed for holidays. An irritation to the librarian is the patron who can't find anything. This is the type which trips over the dictionary stand on the way to the desk to ask the librarian where the dictionary is.

The school has ordered many books and I would suggest that you look a little farther than the cover of the book and do not pass it up because it is non-fiction.

Basketball Season Opens Soon

Basketball season officially started Monday with the first practice scheduled for that day. Heppner is supposed to have some good material this year in basketball. This is based on the fact that there will be several members on the squad that have been on the team in past years.

Whosit?

She is a worthy senior, she makes a sensation as a Russian in the play, is one of our majorettes, is president of the Home Ec club, swings it with the piano, her heart interest is a drummer.

Band Adopts Constitution

For the first time in the history of the Heppner school band they are organized under a constitution. The use of this very complete constitution was adopted Monday. The band, under the direction of Harold Buhman, hopes to further gain the respect of the school and the community by being the most active organization in the school.

In quoting the preamble from the constitution, it states:

The Heppner School Band has been established in order that this band might better cooperate in any school activity which can be improved by band music; that a better understanding might exist between the band and the citizens of the community; that a more sincere attitude might be assured at rehearsals; that the proper handling of any business pertaining to it might be provided for; and that a more cooperative spirit might exist among the members of this organization.

The constitution was drawn up by a committee of Omer McCaleb, Harold Armstrong, Jack Merrill, Shirley Wilson, and President Don Jones. Congratulations bandmen.

Home Ec. Girls Entertained

A short song and dance program was given at the last Home Ec meeting, held in the music room, Nov. 8. Peggy Tamblin, Dorothea Wilson and Patty O'Hara sang "The Chestnut Tree." The second time, Patty sang it alone, while Dorothea and Peggy gave side-splitting interpretations by dancing to the words.

At this meeting, it was decided to hold a popcorn sale at the Hermiton-Heppner football game. Also in the near future, a party will be held for Home Ec girls to which all members will bring the bazaar projects to work on. This will be more fully discussed next meeting.

The Home Ec girls decided to hold the football banquet December 1. The banquet will be followed by a dance. Since this is to pay for banquet expenses, there will be a charge of 35c a couple or 25c for individuals.

F. F. A. News

Several of the F. F. A. boys, namely Dean Gilman, James Johnston, Art Vance, James Moyer, Don Fell, and Francis Healy, have received their beef steers which are now located at the sheds by the Rodeo field. A general price of 8c a pound was paid for these steers. Some were received of Robert Thompson and Frank Wilkinson. Although these men did not wish to sell the steers, they generously sold them to the F. F. A. boys.

Preparations are being made very rapidly for completion of the concrete floor in the Ag. shop. In the past the boys have had to wade around in dust about an inch deep. Some of the forms have been laid, but operation has been slow due to the lack of a concrete mixer.

Hither and Thither

A new senior in our midst is Lewis McDonald, who has transferred from Hardman high school. He has attended Boardman school for the past three years.

Jean Hays and her brother, Johnny, motored to Tillamook Friday to her sister's wedding.

The following students were absent from classes the past week: Milton Morgan, Don Fell, Francis Healy, Nelma Hanlon, Mary Kirk, Jack McLaughlin, Rosetta Healy, Glen Fell, Hugh McLaughlin, Helen Egan.

Dean Gilman received a knee injury Wednesday night at football practice.

Lorraine Bothwell spent the week end visiting relatives in Wasco county, mainly at Maupin and Wapinitia. While in Maupin she attended the Maupin-Dufur Armistice day game which ended in a 6-6 tie.

Heppner to Play Arlington Again

This Saturday Heppner will play Arlington in a return game on their own field. Last year when the Mustangs played the Honkers on their own home field the Mustangs were defeated by a 6-0 score. This year the Mustangs intend to have different results. Some of the players are getting in practice to run in the sand at Arlington by running around the track four times a night.

This game is not a regular one but is played to give Arlington a chance to redeem herself. It has no effect on the Upper Columbia Athletic league championship.

Many Attend Pep Rally

Pep, enthusiasm, and noise reigned at the rally held last Friday night. The pep band marched up Main street led by the three drum majorettes and followed by a large group of students who serpented behind them. Several yells were given and the band played a few selections before going to the theater.

The program at the show consisted of an introduction of the football team and short speeches by the coach, Mr. Knox, and captain, Doug Drake. The yell king and duchess led yells and the band played three selections.

The yell leaders should be congratulated for planning such a good rally, as should be the students who really turned out for a change.

Fashion Dashes

The fashion spotlight of last week centered on smart ensembles that made their appearance at the Armistice dance, Saturday.

Nominated for the most outstanding styles of the evening: Jean Hays in a dark green silk bustle dress, and Wanda Howell in a lighter green wool dress of classic style.

I'm sure you'll agree that Lowell Ashbaugh looked especially nice, Monday, in light blue gabardine shirt and dark trousers. But no less worthy of mention was Dubby Aiken's new green sweater.
