Heppner Leads in Safety Campaign

Heppner was in first place in the 1939 Cities Traffic Safety contest for October, it was revealed today when Earl Snell, secretary of state and sponsor of the contest, announced standings of the various cities entered.

Only two months remain in the contest, November and December, after which final rankings will be compiled and winners in each division will receive a set of highway plaques, suitable for mounting on standards at city entrances.

Following are the standings in the four divisions of the contest:

Division I. Portland, first; Astoria, second; Eugent, Klamath Falls tied for third; Medford, fourth; Salem, fifth.

Division II. Pendleton, first; The Dalles, Baker, Corvallis tied for second; Bend, third; Albany, fourth; Marshfield, fifth. Oregon City was not rated this month due to insufficient reports sent to the secretary of state's office.

Division III. St. Helens, first; Tillamook, Ashland, Burns, Coquille tied for second; McMinnville, third; Hillsboro, fourth; Grants Pass, fifth; Silverton, sixth; Roseburg, seventh; Newberg, eighth; North Bend and Springfield, ninth. Dallas and Hood River were not rated this month due to insufficient reports.

Division IV. Heppner, Gresham, Milton, Vernonia, tied for first; Independence, second; Union, third; Woodburn, fourth; Prineville, Reedsport, Milwaukie, tied for fifth; Myrtle Point, sixth; Forest Grove, seventh; Bandon, Beaverton, Gladstone, Lebanon, Sheridan, West Linn, tied for eighth; Oswego, ninth; Newport, tenth. No ranking was given Enterprise due to insufficient reports.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Verne Leathers arrived at the Owen Leathers home for a visit with their brother and family. They were accompanied by Elza Ules, also of Portland.

The weather this last week was cool with a slight rain Sunday night and threats of more rain. The frost Monday night was so heavy that it looked like snow and remained on the ground some time after the sun came up. The temperature was not particularly low, however.

WILLOWS GRANGE NEWS

By MARY LUNDELL

On November 25th, a number of members attended the last grange meeting to be held in the Cecil hall. An interesting program prepared by the lecturer, Marjorie Baker, was presented by the active lecturer, Vida Heliker. Two candidate names were submitted for membership.

The concrete entrance and steps to the new grange hall are being poured this week, also the hardwood floor is being laid and flues built.

The first meeting will be held in the Ione hall on Saturday evening, Dec. 9. We trust that a goodly number of members will be in attendance on the opening night. On Dec. 16, plans are being arranged to formally dedicate the hall, a ceremony to which grange members and their friends are invited.

Installation of 1940 officers of subordinate granges of the county will be featured on the same date. This program begins at 2 o'clock and continues through the evening with dinner served to visiting grangers at 6. Installation is also open to visitors.

The ladies of the Home Economics club will hold their annual bazaar in the basement of the hall during the afternoon and evening of Dec. 16. A free dance is scheduled by the dance committee for later in the evening.

Come out and help us to make this a real red letter day for Willows grange history.

Intersections were the scenes of most traffic accidents during the month of October, Earl Snell, secretary of state, said today, but most fatalities resulted from injuries on straight pieces of road. Forty-five per cent of the total traffic mishaps for the month occurred at intersections, but only three resulted in deaths. There were 12 fatal accidents on straight roads.
