Survey of National Forest in Oregon Shows Deer and Other Jame Plentiful

of Oregon is plentiful, as figures hunters, 634 elk, ratio 1 to 4.68; recently released by the National 1938, 2717 hunters, 734 elk, ratio 1 Forest service indicate. A compre- to 3.7, and 1939, 3022 hunters, 1211 keting their loan wheat throughout hensive survey shows that upwards elk, ratio 1 to 2.49. of 200,000 animals of the wild life type roam the areas controlled by the forest service and this figure censes were sold. Of the 1211 aniprobably would be increased to some mals slain, 832 were bulls and 379 extent through a count of the animals in the forest areas controlled by state and private ownership.

The forest service count reveals 1550 antelope, 5370 black bear, 35,-850 blacktail deer, 117,260 mule deer, 100 white tail deer, 21,000 elk and 30 mountain sheep, or a total of 196,130 animals.

Game animals killed during the 1939 hunting season totalled 23,130, recorded as follows: Blacktail deer, 2030; mule deer, 19,280; elk, 1070, and black bear, 700.

The special hunt in Murderers creek area of the Malheur forest showed a total of 10,896 animals killed, incluing 3,563 bucks, 6,-397 does and fawns. Estimated number of deer in that area was 40,000 said. and hunters ranging the district last fall numbered 15,646. This was a heavily over-populated area. When winter feed was inadequate to supply the demand, loss from starvation took a heavy toll each year.

Figures submitted by the forest service relative to elk slaying for the last five years show that hunters in 1939 displayed better marksmanship than in previous years. In 1935, 2761 hunters killed 692 elk for a success ratio of one to four; 1936 the figures were 2946 hunters,

Wheat Loans Now Being Redeemed

Oregon farmers who took out federal crop loans on their 1939 wheat harvest gradually are placing their grain back on the market, and to date have liquidated about twothirds of their loans, according to Edgar L. Ludwick of Corvallis, supervisor of the loan program for Pacific northwest states.

Loans were made to Oregon growers on 5,650,000 bushels of wheat. To date, approximately 3,500,000 bushels have been liquidated, Ludwick

He also stated that Washington and northern Idaho have a similar percentage of loan wheat released. with southern Idaho, Utah and California showing favorably.

The loan program has been of material assistance, Ludwick said, for growers have been able to sell No. 82, I. O. O. F. of Hardman, Oretheir liquidated weight at an average gon, in testimony of its loss, drape price of about ten cents above loan its charter in mourning for 30 days value. Without the loan, many of and that we tender to the family of them would have been forced to sell our deceased brother our sincere their wheat at harvest time, taking the lower price then prevailing, he Orderly marketing of loan wheat has kept markets from becoming depressed, Ludwick observed. He expects farmers to continue marthe next few weeks, since all 1939 loans mature on April 30.

Growers whose loan wheat is stored on their farms under seal may renew the loans and have their bins resealed. There are about 21/2 million bushels of farm stored wheat in the Pacific northwest states, Ludwick said.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Brother George H.

Hayden, who died March 17, 1940. Once again death hath summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway of the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit "well done" from the Supreme Mas-
