Mrs. Mary Kenny Came to County in '83

Death claimed a Morrow county pioneer early Saturday morning in the passing of Mrs. Michael Kenny at her home in Heppner. Mrs. Kenny was stricken early in the week and death was not unexpected. Many came from outside the county, some from as far as western Washington and central Idaho.

Jury System Text her infirmities made hospital care of Lions Discussion

Good and bad points of the American jury system were aired before the Lions club Monday when Frank C. Alfred, county attorney, presented the subject for discussion. tian Union church and as long as Mr. Alfred, as program chairman possible was an active member of for the month, opened discussion with a brief talk on the question of whether the present system should She passed away March 23, 1940, be abolished. He pointed out some of the faults of the system and offered as a possible substitute the French form of trial by judges.

Citing the lack of experience of the average layman in matters of law, but not decrying the fact, Alfred said that a hearing of the average case before three judges, such as has been recommended in the past, should prove to be more economical as well as result in clearer interpretation of the law. He also contended for more practical training of school children in matters of comes for them to enter into the more leeway in interpreting a case than the judge system would have, holding to the thought that a jury has more of an opportunity to consider the human element and would be more apt to render a decision based on that kind of justice than would the judges.

A piano solo by "Lioness" Marjorie Parker was the musical offering for the luncheon.
