Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Crawford and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Dunham of Ashland, spent Sunday in Baker where they were guests of Rev. Charles E. Dunham and family. They were accompanied from La Grande to Baker by Miss Kathryn Parker, student at Eastern Oregon College of Education. Union and Baker county residents would like to see the weather warm up enough to promote the growth of crops, although the section has enjoyed one of the mildest winter seasons in many years.

Leon N. Fefebvre of Portland was a Heppner visitor Friday. He accompanied Leslie M. Scott, former chairman of the state highway commission, who is running for the office of state treasurer. Lefebvre is on the Rose Festival float committee and says that this year's festival will outclass all former years, with a real showman, Ted Gamble, president of the association.

Misses Leta Humphreys and Rose Leibbrand enjoyed a short vacation trip the first of the week, leaving Sunday morning for Spokane. From there they drove to Grand Coulee, Dry Falls, Wenatchee and Yakima, returning via Pasco. They report a fine trip and state that Dry Falls proved more interesting to them than the other places visited.

Mrs. Hanson Hughes returned Friday evening from Portland where she visited friends and relatives for two weeks. She accompanied Mrs. J. A. Craig who came for a visit of several days in Heppner. Mrs. Craig is a former resident, her husband having practiced dentistry here a number of years ago.

Portland young ladies visiting in Heppner over the week end included Anabel Turner, Virginia Dix, Beatrice Thomson, Bethel Stanton and Marie Healy. They came up from the city Saturday night and returned to their several jobs Sunday evening.

Miles Martin, in Heppner Tuesday, stated that .54 inch of rain fell at his place north of Lexington Monday night. The ground was getting a little dry on top and while not badly needed, the rain was welcome, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anglin drove to Seattle last Thursday for a visit with relatives and to give Mr. Anglin a more extended rest from his duties at the Safeway store. They expect to return home Saturday.

Miss Betty Happold and Marvin Searles, students at Oregon State college, spent the week end in Heppner with Miss Happold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Happold. Mr. Searles' home is in Enterprise.

Mrs. Tom Clark and son Norton were Heppner visitors Tuesday, driving from their home in Hood River. The Clarks formerly resided here when Tom Clark was conductor on the branch train.

Miss Lucille Vale attended a clinic for crippled children at Vert Memorial in Pendleton Wednesday.

Lions Hear About Greatness of Texas

Texas is not only the largest state in the union, but in the opinion of its citizens it is the biggest in virtually everything that goes to make up a commonwealth. This was brot to the attention of Heppner Lions at Monday's luncheon when Rev. Wm. L. Blakeslee of Austin, Texas, read a humorous letter credited to a Texan who had gone elsewhere to live but who was so imbued with the greatness of his native state that to him all other states paled into insignificance by comparison. In short, if Texas were taken out of the Union there would be little left of the good old U. S. A.

The letter was read by way of introducing a little levity to the meeting and the visitor later spoke seriously of the work of the Paulist mission which he is conducting in Heppner this week. He was accompanied by Father McCormick, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, who expressed appreciation for the pleasant reception he has had here.

Alden Blankenship made a report on the recent band contest in La Grande. He said that while Heppner received superior rating this year instead of the excellent rating which has been the rule with the local band the past several years, the school and band are not down on their luck but are determined to work harder to recapture the former status at the next contest.

Lieut. Marius P. Hanford, commander of Camp Heppner, outlined plans for a lawn party, which, as he explained, may prove to be a farewell party, inasmuch as the camp's status is in doubt. Weather permitting, the affair will be held outdoors and preparations will be made for feeding all who come—50 or 1500, the commander said. Last year's party was held in the mess hall and the guest list was limited to 200 persons because that was all that could be accommodated. Ample advertising will be given this year's party which will be staged the latter part of May or early in June.

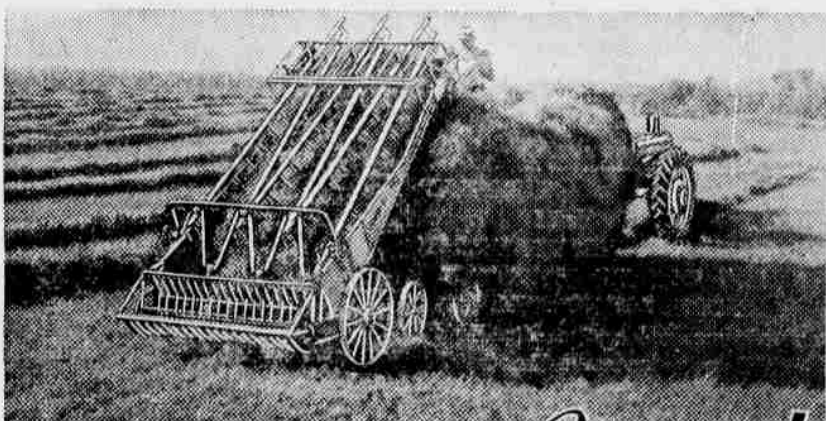

The president was asked to name a committee to act with committees from the chamber of commerce and other civic groups in helping to serve lunch at the annual school music festival on May 3.

Next Lions meeting will be Monday, May 6.

For sale, Hanson strain W. L. chicks, May, 7c. Salter Hatchery, Ione. 8-9.

Who wants to pitch Hay onto a wagon?

The answer is—Nobody!

That's why we're selling
John Deere Hay Loaders

You know that pitching hay onto a wagon is one of the hottest, dustiest, toughest jobs on the farm. Why not spare yourself this punishment and, at the same time improve the quality of your hay by gathering it gently from the wind-row with a John Deere Raker Bar-Cylinder Loader.

This strong, all-steel, big-capacity loader with flexible, self-adjusting floating cylinder and raker-bar elevation gathers the hay clean, even in rough fields, and delivers it without loss of valuable foliage parts. Three-point mounting adds years to the life of the loader, and makes for quick, easy coupling. Come in and let us show you why the loader you buy should be a John Deere.
