Nurse Reports on Children's Clinics

Clinics for children of school age and pre-school age were conducted at Irrigon, Boardman and Hardman last week by Miss Lucille Vale, county health nurse, assisted by Dr. M. Carter Davis of the division of maternal and child health of the state board of health.

At Irrigon on Monday 52 children were examined. Of these, 34 obtained vaccinations for smallpox; 39 were given diphtheria immunizations and two the Schick tests. The first of a series of child health conferences for infants and pre-school age children was held at Irrigon the morning of April 16 when eight children were examined and three were given smallpox vaccinations. A like conference was held at Boardman in the afternoon, with 15 pre-school age children examined and seven obtaining smallpox vaccinations.

School examinations were given at Hardman Wednesday morning. A total of 32 children were examined. Eleven obtained vaccination for smallpox, five given diphtheria immunizations and two tuberculin tests. Ten parents were present to confer with the examining physician. Examinations were conducted in the afternoon for 13 infant and pre-school children. Of these, six were given vaccination for smallpox and six received diphtheria immunization.

Both Miss Vale and Dr. Carter expressed pleasure at the interest shown in the clinics and wish to thank the ladies who helped in conducting them.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Harvie Young, whose death occurred last week, and who was buried at Medford Friday, was a native of Heppner, born here December 2, 1893. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Cox, pioneer residents of Oregon. She attended schools in her native city and was graduated from the Heppner high school. Her marriage to Mr. Young took place in Heppner on August 29, 1915. Mr. Young also was a native of Heppner and he and the then Gladys Cox went through school together, having known each other since childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Young moved to Medford in March, 1925. Mr. Young is employed in the engineering department of the city school system.

Mrs. Young is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Oliver Cox, Medford; two children, Mrs. R. H. Logan of Portland and Robert Young, a senior at the University of Oregon; a sister, Mrs. Lena Young, Medford, and five brothers, Delvin and Darrell Cox, Longview, Wash., Bernard Cox, Loomis, Wn., Jay Cox, Seattle Wn., and Harold Cox, Copco, Calif.

Aid Sought in Fixing Identity Of Haines Heir

If you read the Oregon Journal you know about Mr. Fixit. His job is to help locate missing persons, for one thing, and this week he would like information which might be found in Heppner. The party in question is not lost but may lose an inheritance if he cannot establish his identity. The request comes from far away Alaska.

Says Mr. Fixit: Some years ago before the famous Heppner flood, a man by the name of Bruce Haines lived in Heppner, where he was in business. Later he went to Valdez, Alaska, where he passed away last December, leaving a considerable estate. This should go to a son Tom, who is now somewhere in the interior of Alaska where mails are slow and infrequent. The Alaska court requires some evidence that Tom is actually, by birth or adoption, the son of the deceased. It is hoped that someone who knew the family in their Heppner days may be able to give the needed testimony. Tom would be in his early forties. Anyone who can help on this unusual assignment will please telephone Tabor 4770 or write to J. T. Hattan, route 9, box 563 (Portland), who will forward the information to the Alaskan commissioner.

Ione Couple Wed at College Place

By Mrs. Elmer Griffith
Ione, April 24.—The marriage of Miss Dorothy Brady and Vernon Christopherson was solemnized Tuesday at College Place, Wash. Rev. Mr. Burg officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Christopherson, parents of the bridegroom accompanied them. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ralph Ledbetter of Lexington and the grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Peterson of Ione, with whom she has made her home. Both young people are members of the senior class of the Ione high school and plan to complete their course, after which they will be at home on the E. W. Christopherson ranch in Dry Fork.

LAYING NEW MAINS

A crew of men started work yesterday morning on relaying water pipe on Water street. Fifteen hundred feet of new cast iron pipe will replace the old pipe. All replacements are being made on a uniform basis, according to J. O. Rasmus, water superintendent. Pipelines are being laid at a distance of five feet from sidewalk lines, he said.
