

Rev. Young Laid to Rest in Portland

Funeral services for Rev. R. C. Young were held from the Methodist church in Heppner at 10 o'clock a. m., last Saturday. The church was filled with sorrowing friends who mourned the departure of one held in high esteem by the entire community.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. N. Byars of Arlington, assisted by Rev. Martin Clark and Rev. Clifford Noble of Heppner, Rev. Kirby of Pendleton and the minister from Hermiston. A male quartet, J. O. Turner, O. G. Crawford, F. C. Alfred and R. P. Kinne, sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Turner. Following the service, Mrs. Young and other members of the family drove to Portland and the body of Mr. Young was forwarded to the city that evening. Saturday morning services were held at Sunnyside Methodist church, Dr. Milton A. Marcy, pastor, officiating, assisted by Dr. E. A. Wolfe, district superintendent and numerous other ministers of the city.

Robert Carl Young was born at David City, Neb., April 10, 1886. He received his elementary and high school education in his native town and later attended Kansas Wesleyan at Salina, Kans., and Asbury college in Kentucky. After completing his theological training he spent a year in intense training for missionary service in New York city. He was scheduled to take up work in Africa but suffered a breakdown in health and came west to regain his strength. He married Olive Gray in Portland, May 7, 1912, and to them three children were born, Reo Wesley of Forest Grove, Mrs. Howard Zimmerman of Portland, and Robert, a junior at University of Oregon, Eugene, who, with the mother and one grandchild, Jerry Zimmerman, survive.

Rev. Young entered the Oregon conference in the fall of 1912. He served numerous pastorates in Oregon and Washington before coming to Heppner in the summer of 1936. He was serving as temporary pastor at the Congregational church in Riverton when he accepted the call to the local church. He was pastor of the Goldendale church five years, four years at White Salmon, and prior to that had served at Wasco and Arlington.

During his Heppner residence he endeared himself not only to the members of his congregation but to the community at large. He was a scholarly man, a polished public speaker and an earnest community worker. In his pastorates he served as Boy Scout leader in several towns and in this and other work with the young people he manifested leadership of rare ability. When the nation became involved in the World war, Mr. Young entered the Y. M. C. A. service and put in 13 months with that organization in France.

P. P. & L. Co. First in Safety Contest

The fleet of trucks operated by Pacific Power & Light company stands in first place among all large public utilities in the United States at the two-thirds mark of the nation-wide fleet safety contest sponsored by the National Safety Council, according to a report just received by R. P. Kinne, agent for the company.

Nearly 1200 fleets are competing in the contest, which includes all industries in the United States. In the utilities division are 149 fleets, 49 of them in the large utility section. The contest ends June 20.

During the first eight months of the contest, Pacific Power & Light company's 105 trucks were driven 706,000 miles—equivalent to more than 28 times around the world—with only one accident.

Credit for the fine showing of the truck fleet was given by Mr. Kinne to the company's safety first program under George I. Drennan, field superintendent, which for a number of years has emphasized safe driving as well as first aid and other safety measures.

In the western public utilities passenger car division, Pacific's 65-car fleet had only one accident for every 193,000 miles of operation, for a total of three accidents in 579,000 miles. This brought the company ninth place at the eight-month mark of the contest.

For the nation as a whole, all fleets showed a 2 per cent increase in accidents during the first eight months of the contest. By divisions, public utilities showed a 2 per cent increase, all passenger car fleets a 5 per cent increase and western passenger cars a 6 per cent increase.
