Crops are coming along better with the advent of warmer weather, in the opinion of V. L. Carlson, who was looking after business matters in Heppner Saturday. Fireweed is also doing well, Carlson says, but this will mature soon and dry up, leaving the grain to draw on the moisture. Barring unforeseen weather conditions, Morrow county will have a lot of good grain this season, the Gooseberry man avers.

M. R. Mathew, better known all over eastern Oregon as "Big Mat," was calling on the retail trade in Heppner Saturday. Mathew, resident of The Dalles, has probably covered the district east of the Cascades longer than any other traveling representative now on the road. He speaks to everybody for he doubtless has met the populace in the course of his many calls here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Huston enjoyed a week's visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mark M. Taylor, who came from Salem Wednesday, May 8. Mr. Taylor is chief examiner of drivers and chauffeurs in the office of the secretary of state. The Taylors recently moved from Eugene to Salem.

Tracy Moberg was a week-end visitor in Heppner from his home in Seattle. Returning home Sunday he was accompanied by Mrs. Moberg and their small daughters, Kay and Myra Lee, who visited for two weeks at the home of Mrs. Moberg's sister, Mrs. W. S. Bennett.

Guests at the P. W. Mahoney home Sunday were Mrs. Mahoney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hyatt of Pendleton. Mrs. Hyatt remained over Monday and Tuesday while Mr. Hyatt returned to his clothing business in the Umatilla county seat.

Edgar Parker left Wednesday morning for Portland to take up duties in the information and education division of the forest service. Parker had been holding the position of assistant ranger in the Heppner office for the last 14 months.

Henry Aiken, Harlan McCurdy and E. O. Ferguson were Heppner men motoring to Pendleton this morning for the cowboy breakfast, a regular feature of the annual convention of the Oregon Horse and Cattleraisers association.

Lee Scritsmeier is spending a few days in Heppner this week on business connected with the Scitsmeier mill. Lee is located in Portland where he is assisting his father in the management of their properties.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Amort and children of Portland visited over Saturday night and Sunday, visiting Mrs. Amorts relatives, Mrs. Rebecca Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Casteel of Salem were Sunday visitors in Heppner, enjoying a visit with old-time friends.

M. L. Case drove to Ritter Tuesday taking Miles Mulligan there for treatments at the baths. Case will return the end of the week and Mulligan will remain for several weeks.

Grass is plentiful and crops have a fine start in the Lonerock country, according to Joseph N. Hayes, who spent the week end in Heppner on business.

Lorena Miller was elected clerk of School District No. 12 to succeed Ruth Lasich, resigned, at a school election held in Lexington Friday, May 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Sherman have selected the name of Maryland for the little girl who joined their household May 7. She is the second child, both being girls.

Range and crop conditions are excellent in the Juniper canyon area, according to Michael Fitzpatrick, who was transacting business in the city Saturday.

Eddie Chidsey, resident engineer with the state highway department and stationed near Condon, was visiting Heppner friends Thursday evening.

J. Bradley Castle has taken over the trash hauling business formerly conducted by Bob Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Ely and Mr. and Mrs. Burl Akers were in Heppner Wednesday on business.

BRUCE SPALDING VISITS

Bruce Spalding, former Heppner boy and now district attorney of Polk county, paid the old home town a brief visit Monday in the interest of his candidacy for the office of attorney general. He seeks the nomination on the democratic ticket. Bruce attended school in Heppner when his father held the pastorate of the Methodist church. After finishing high school he entered Willamette university, graduating with an A.B. degree. He later completed a course in law at Willamette and has been practicing his profession for 10 years, now serving his second term as Polk county district attorney.

Mrs. Orville Smith and son Jimmy, who visited at Naches and Seattle for two weeks, returned to Heppner Saturday. Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pfifer, brought them from Seattle, and remained for a visit of several days.

Miss Marjorie Parker was a week-end guest at the E. M. Hulden home in Arlington. She attended the high school prom there Saturday evening.

E. M. Baker, who was confined a few days at the Heppner hospital with an attack of pleurisy, was able to return to his home near Ione Saturday.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton will be at the HOTEL HEPNER on WEDNESDAY, MAY 22nd.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Woods of Portland are spending the week in Heppner at the home of Mrs. Woods' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rea.

Future Farmers do Numerous Shop Jobs

Members of the local club of Future Farmers of America have taken a real interest in shop work during the school year, as indicated by the list submitted this week. The work has covered a wide range of articles including household articles and farm vehicles. In the course of the year the boys have turned out nine wheel-barrow, three horse trailers, four book cases, one step ladder, three tables, seven bulletin boards, one writing desk, one utility push cart, one garden roller and one blackboard.

Officers for the ensuing year are Bill Padberg, president; James Kenney, vice-president; Lura Stephens, secretary; Ralph Taylor, treasurer; Bill Scrivner, reporter, and Dean Gilman, bulldog.

SCOUTS LEAVE MONDAY

Morrow county Boy Scouts will leave Monday for Herren creek to establish camp for a week. There will be about 20 boys in the camp, according to Martin Clark, scout leader for the Heppner troop. O. E. Hoover, director of the Blue Mountain council, will be present Thursday and Friday and on Friday evening will conduct a court of honor. The public has been invited to this function.
