Boardman School Ends With Picnic

By MRS. CLAUD COATS

Friday the entire school had the annual end of the year picnic. The high school went to Cold Springs reservoir, the seventh and eighth grades to Pendleton, and the other six grades to various places close to town.

Commencement exercises were held Thursday evening in the school auditorium with a large crowd attending. The stage was decorated with roses and green foliage. The members of the graduating class were Ralph Skoubo, Echo Coats, Jack Olson, Clara Mae Dillon, Dale Russell, Doris Hood and Bob McCutcheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baker and Mrs. M. Klitz were in La Grande Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCutcheon, Lucille and Ralph were here Wednesday and Thursday from Walla Walla for Bob McCutcheon's graduation.

Mrs. Claud Myers left for Portland Saturday to visit relatives and consult a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. James Garrison of Portland visited her mother, Mrs. Charles Andregg over the week end.

Mrs. J. F. Barlow, who has been ill for some time, is very much improved. Friends were pleased to see her out to commencement exercises last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorham left for Seaside Saturday, where Mrs. Gorham will remain for the summer. Mrs. Delbert Wetherell, nee Katherine Gorham, is helping Mardell in the store during his absence.

Miss Essie Jones who is attending beauty school in La Grande was in Boardman Thursday and Friday. Her sister, Esther Jones, accompanied her to La Grande Friday and stayed over night.

ANGLIN WINS PRIZE

J. A. Anglin, manager of the local Safeway store, recently sent in a "Manager Mac" suggestion strip to The Family Circle for which he received a check for $5. He thinks the day of miracles has not yet passed. A few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Anglin responded to the urge of the muse and wrote a song entitled, "The Garden of Flowers." He sang the song at the Methodist church last Sunday, dedicating it to the late Rev. R. C. Young. It was received with much appreciation, according to comments heard from members of the congregation.

DEMONSTRATES RANGE

G. E. Storck, representing the Monarch range, is holding demonstrations of the stove at the Case Furniture company. Starting Wednesday afternoon and continuing over today he is serving coffee and biscuits to all who come. A regular wood burning range has been set up in the front of the store. Charcoal briquets are burned, producing the maximum of heat and no smoke.

Out of town guests at the J. G. Barratt home Saturday evening included Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holt of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jackman and Mr. Harris of Corvallis.
