Gordon Ridings arrived this morning from New York city where he has been spending the summer doing physical examination work following close of the spring session at Columbia university where he teaches in the physical education department. His sister, Miss Reta Ridings, an associate professor and head of the research library at the University of Wyoming, accompanied him, and they will leave tomorrow for Eugene accompanied by Mrs. Ridings who has been spending several months at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Pinckney and son Bob returned home on Tuesday night from a week's vacation motor trip which took them down the Oregon and California coast as far south as San Francisco and a two-day stay at the world's fair. Return was made via Sacramento, Reno, Al-turas, Lakeview, and between the latter two points the large forest fire that has been defying fighters for several days was seen. Arriving in John Day in time for supper Tuesday evening, the Pinckneys bumped into the Heppner junketeers who had just arrived at that point in their Rodeo advertising tour.

Mrs. Earl W. Gordon spent last week at Portland and Salem. At the latter place she visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Stephens and attended the opening of Salem's centennial celebration. She encountered former Heppner-ites on every hand. In Portland she did Christmas buying for Gordon's Drug store and was thrilled with the beautiful stocks on display at wholesale houses.

Glee Boyer of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyer and Mrs. Clarence Boyer of San Francisco passed through Heppner Saturday from Grant county where they visited relatives. The Boyers are former residents of this city and enjoyed greeting old-time friends of the family while here.

Alex McDonald, former teacher in the lone schools, is now at Medford and batting a click of .450 with the Pearpickers' baseball team, according to word received by Fred Hoskins. Mr. Hoskins was transacting business in the city yesterday from the Rhea creek ranch.

L. W. Briggs, county treasurer, has been granted two weeks leave for a vacation period at the coast and expects to leave about the 19th. Miss Opal Briggs, Miss Florence Moyer, John Fuiten and Ralph Taylor, grandson, will accompany him.

Haold Hoeft arrived this week from Rapid City, S. Dak., where he was a student the past year at the South Dakota School of Mines and is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Run-nion.

Leonard Schwarz sustained a severe cut in the left forearm Sunday, when a saw he was using at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwarz, slipped. The cut was so deep it narrowly missed hitting the main artery.

Fraternalists' Fete Set for State Fair

Fraternal day for the Oregon state fair has been scheduled for Sunday, September 8, the closing day, and will be staged under direction of the Oregon State Fraternal congress with George H. Weber of Portland chairman of the committee which has formulated plans to make it one of the outstanding new days at the 79th fair.

Weber and his committee have already outlined a program which includes a parade of all drill teams in the fairgrounds square, massing of the colors in the stadium, followed by a brief speaking program at which Governor Charles A. Sprague has been invited to give the address of welcome. Mrs. Minnie Hiner, president of the Oregon Fraternal congress, will respond and a nationally known speaker will give the address. Competitive drills for cash prizes and trophies presented by the fair will be features.

INTRODUCING GRASS

S. P. Abplanalp of the Mutual Seed Co., Hermiston, was in the city the first of the week introducing Michel's grass, cross between Mosida winter wheat and a large coarse bunch rye grass, for sowing on local stock ranges. The grass, developed at University of Idaho, holds promise of being specially adapted to needs of stockmen in this section, said Mr. Abplanalp, who reported sale of seed to several stockmen.

Long-Time Parkers Crowd Out Customers

Shoppers and others desiring to park at the curb for a short time in many cities often can not do so because the greater part of available space is being used by persons connected with stores and offices in the vicinity, states E. B. McDaniel, president of the Oregon State Motor association in quoting from a report of a recent nationwide survey of parking facilities made by the American Automobile association.

"Careful checks in some cities have shown that while cars of business men and their employees constitute only 15 to 20 per cent of the total cars parked," a report on the survey stated, "the fact that they are parked for long periods means they use over half of the available space-hours."

"The average time of four hours and forty minutes used by managers and employees of nearby businesses in one city can be contrasted with an average of forty-one minutes used by persons shopping or patronizing professional men. Thus, in this case, each long-time parker used up space which could have accommodated seven potential patrons.

"The survey, undertaken to develop plans to help communities cope with their parking problems, also revealed that a number of cities have found a way to remedy all-day parking by business people through prohibition of curb parking before 9:30 a. m. In one city, for example, it was found that nearly one-third of all vehicles violating the one-hour limit in the central business district were parked before 9:30 a. m.," the motor association president said.
