

SOCIETY CHIT-CHAT

By JUNE SMITH

The combination of Ram Sale and State Woolgrower's Auxiliary meeting in Pendleton last Friday attracted a number of Heppner members. Among those present for these events were Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. B. C. Pinckney, Mrs. Phil Mahoney, Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Harold Cohn, Mrs. Marvin Wightman, Mrs. Orville Smith, Mrs. Harriet Mahoney, Mrs. W. H. Cleveland.

The meeting of the auxiliary was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Mac Hoke and was presided over by the state president, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, who was presented with a lovely gardenia corsage by the Umatilla chapter. A similar corsage was given to Mrs. Harold Cohn, who is secretary of the state organization. Reports were given for the various chapters and talks made by Mrs. Hoke, Mr. Hoke, and Mr. Harry Lindgren of the Extension Department, Oregon State college.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served by the Umatilla chapter following the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones left Wednesday for Portland, where they planned to board the yacht "Boomerang," owned by Mrs. Jones' brother, Mr. Clay A. Dooley, who is a rear admiral of the Astoria Yacht Club. In company with three other couples, the Jones will cruise to Astoria, where they will enjoy the regatta.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. Nearheim of Seattle at their home last weekend. The couple left Monday, accompanied by Miss Phyllis Pollock, who is returning to her teaching at Mt. Vernon, after a visit in Everett, Wn.

Miss Helen Fortner who is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fortner at Grass Valley, will return to Heppner this week end. She will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas this winter, while attending high school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Dolling and son Tommy, of Spokane, are to be house guests of the B. C. Pinckneys over Labor Day.

Mrs. Jasper Crawford and son Jim, and Mrs. Truman Babb left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, where they will remain a week, bringing back Mrs. Crawford's son Dick who has spent the summer there.

Mrs. W. S. Cunningham of Umatilla is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Homer Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ferguson of Gold Beach arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson Saturday, bringing with them the Ferguson's son Dick. Mrs. O. T. Ferguson is now visiting her daughter, Mrs. Crystal Barlow at Boardman, while Mr. Ferguson is with his son.

Mrs. D. M. Ward returned to her home last Thursday after some time in Portland.

Mrs. Frank Turner and Mrs. W. O. Bayless drove to John Day last week end, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morris. Mrs. Morris is a sister of Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Bayless. On their return they visited with Mrs. Bayless' son, Howard Swick, at Monument.

Mrs. Bert Griffith of Alturas, Cal., spent Thursday with Mrs. W. O. Bayless.

Mrs. L. E. Bisbee entertained members of her bridge club at her home last Thursday afternoon with a dessert bridge. High score was won by Mrs. Fred Lucas, with Mrs. Harriet Mahoney receiving consolation. The members include Mrs. Chas. Thomson, Mrs. Chas. Cox, Mrs. C. W. McNamer, Mrs. W. O. Dix, Mrs. L. E. Dick, Mrs. W. E. Pruyne, Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Mahoney.

Mrs. Frank Wilkinson drove to Fossil Tuesday to visit her father, Fred Ball. On her return to Hepp-

Total Crops To Be Average; Wheat Up

Improvement in wheat and some other early crops nearly offset a decline in a few late crops during July so that the general crop production prospect early in August was that the total in the United States will be about average, according to the monthly report on the agricultural situation just released by the O.S.C. agricultural extension service. Considering stocks carried over, supplies of most crops will be ample, the report states.

Wheat crop prospects improved during July and the production estimate was boosted to 761 million bushels which is slightly more than last year and slightly above the 10-year average. Data given in the report indicate that a further increase in the already large wheat surplus will be registered in the carryover figures next July 1.

The expected increase in stocks is estimated on the basis of 675 million bushels needed for domestic uses, leaving 86 million bushels out of this year's crop, and 280 million carried over from last year available for export or carry-over next year. Exports during the 1939-40 marketing season amounted to only 46 million bushels and the prospects for wheat shipment overseas from the United State appear even poorer than a year ago. Domestic prices are being supported by the government loan program and are at a high level compared with world wheat prices.

Rather complete information is given in the report on the wheat market outlook for 1941-42 as an aid to growers in planning crop production in 1941. The report, which is available free from county agents or direct from the college, also contains a review of the general farm price situation, with data on prices received and paid by farmers.

A national wheat acreage allotment of 62 million acres for 1941 was announced some time ago. Rates of payment under the AAA program will be determined and announced Wednesday she brought her sister, Miss Hazel Ball with her, and drove her on to Pendleton from where Miss Ball will leave for Baker to teach school the coming term.

Mr. Logie Richardson, accompanied by Dick Wilkinson, left Wednesday for San Francisco, where he will meet his wife, who has been there for several weeks. They will visit their daughter, Mrs. Oscar Olsen and two children, and return in about ten days.

Miss Frances Wilkinson returned home Monday from San Francisco where she spent a two weeks vacation, including visits at the fair.

after all national acreage allotments on other crops are available, according to a release just received from Washington.

Oregon Farmers Urged to Grow War Crops

Irrigation will help many Oregon farmers to "cash in" on market opportunities afforded by European war conditions, according to a summary of future market prospects given by William A. Schoenfeld, dean and director of agriculture at Oregon State college, during the eleventh annual western Oregon irrigation tour held on the experiment station farms.

In some parts of the state and for some products increased acreages of certain crops will be possible, although in others higher production will depend upon increasing the yields of present acreages either by additional moisture or other means, he said.

War conditions have reduced or entirely eliminated the importation of many of the seeds and other specialty crops for which Oregon is ideally adapted, Dean Schoenfeld pointed out. He mentioned specifically the various grass and clover seeds, field pea and vetch seed, both seed, flower bulbs, hops, filberts, fiber flax and seed flax, sugar beet and even less common products such as poppy and mustard seed, pyrethrum, peppermint oil and certain foreign types of cheese.

By stressing the production of these crops in the immediate future, Dean Schoenfeld said, it will be possible for Oregon farmers to compensate somewhat for the lost markets for staple crops caused by this same war. At the same time Oregon farmers will thus be able to supply other farmers in the United States with essential seed no longer obtainable in usual quantities abroad.

"Preparedness involves much more than merely military defenses," he added, "and this is an important step in providing America with essential agricultural products."

Adaptation of crop systems to make full use of irrigation was explained by a number of specialists in the course of the tour.

Saturday Final Day for Wheat Insurance

Farmers who have not completed wheat insurance applications and who desire to do so are warned by the local AAA office that Saturday, August 31, is the final day for doing so. Up to last night 40,000 acres of next year's crop had been signed.

Payment of indemnities due to curtailed production this year had totalled 20,000 bushels up to last night, reported Merle Cummings, secretary.

The August 31 deadline applies to any farm growing fall wheat. If a farm grows only spring wheat insurance may be taken as late as February 28 next.
