Hardman Rebekahs Hold Nomination

By ELSA M. LEATHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson made a business trip to Twin Falls, Idaho, this week, returning on Sunday to Heppner and were overnight visitors at the M. R. Saling home. They went on home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDaniel, Sr., were in Heppner on business the first of the week.

Since the Rebekah order had such a large attendance last Tuesday evening they nominated officers for the ensuing year. The nominations will be open until the next meeting. Miss Lurline Sparks was nominated for noble grand, Mrs. Oletta Farrens, vice grand; Frances Leathers, secretary; Evalyn Farrens, treasurer. Mrs. Maude Hayden and Mrs. Walter Wright also attended lodge.

Ellis Saling's visited in Hardman last week.

Mrs. Oren McDaniel and children went to Lone Rock to visit her folks this week.

Miles McIntyre visited in town a short time this week, before going to the McIntire ranch, where he will work while Tom Brown has a lay-off. Mr. Brown went to Ione where his wife is staying with her father, Mr. Botts, who is ill.

Mrs. Harlan Adams had two of her children's tonsils removed this week in Heppner. They returned on Friday and are practically well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Saling and family of Heppner and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McDonald were dinner guests at the Raymond McDonald home Sunday, the occasion being little Patsy's second birthday.

A very nice C. E. party at the high school was enjoyed by those who attended last Wednesday evening. The party was all in musical form and was a very clever idea. Delicious pop corn was served by Ethel Knighten.

Kinard McDaniel made a business trip to Heppner Tuesday.

Due to several cold nights in the mountains logging began at Bill Greener's on Tuesday.

Claud Buschke went to Klamath Falls with Tyndal Robison and was gone several days. Mrs. Robison visited at the L. Redding home and Mrs. Buschke and children visited at the Walter Becket home, both on Eight Mile. Mr. and Mrs. Robison expect to depart for their new home Tuesday morning. The very best of wishes goes with them from their many friends in this community.
