Landscape Section Sets Anniversary

Oregon State College—The thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the department of landscape architecture will be observed here this spring in connection with the annual Corvallis and state college garden program May 8 to 11.

The course here, established soon after Dr. W. J. Kerr assumed the presidency of the institution, was the first started west of the Mississippi offering degrees in this field. A. L. Peck, present head of the department, has been on the staff since its inception and in addition to the teaching work has directed the development of the campus landscaping.

Insect Control Guide Issued by College

The best of vegetable garden seed planted on excellent land will still not insure a crop unless the plants are protected from insects. In answer to the constant requests for information on garden insect control, the entomologists at Oregon State college have just prepared a revised extension bulletin No. 551, which gives the latest recommendations for controlling garden pests.

The bulletin discusses various types of dusts and sprays, and methods of application, and also contains a chart showing recommended control of insects for the different kinds of garden crops. The bulletin may be obtained free from any county extension office.

Mayor Asks Everyone To Aid Safety Record

Mayor J. O. Turner today called upon citizens of this city to cooperate in the campaign to keep Oregon at the top of the list in traffic safety by driving and walking carefully during the remainder of the year.

In a statement calling attention to the recent announcement that Oregon had won first place in the National Safety council's 1940 traffic safety contest in the western division, Mayor Turner stressed the fact that this state already had made a good start toward a favorable record for 1941 by leading the nation in traffic fatality reduction during the first two months of the year.

"In this modern era of automobile travel, the reputation of being a safe area in which to drive is of inestimable value in attracting tourists to our state," the mayor declared in his statement. "In addition to the high distinction conferred upon the state by winning the contest, there is a tangible value involved in being recognized as the safest state in the west. It is to our interests to maintain this reputation as long as possible.

"Traffic accidents can be prevented. Figures compiled in the office of Earl Snell, secretary of state, show that for the first two months of this year, traffic increased 15.6 percent, as shown by figures on gasoline consumption. But during this same period traffic fatalities decreased 40 percent. Clearly, the mere fact there is a great volume of traffic on our highways and streets does not mean there must be a correspondingly great volume of traffic fatalities.

"If we, as individual drivers, will hold down our speed on the highways, approach intersections with greater caution, always remember to give proper hand and arm signals and to observe the rights of others, we can prevent accidents, as pedestrians, we can cross streets only at intersections where we can use crosswalks, watch for approaching traffic before leaving the curb, walk to the left of the highway, facing traffic, and wear something white at night.

"In this way, we can avoid becoming involved in traffic accidents and each one of us can thus do his part in maintaining the state's reputation as a safe place in which to drive and walk."

IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOL PLANT IS NEEDED

- (b) Wainscotting should be painted in soft colors. Boys' and girls' lavatories should be refinished. Colors are entirely too harsh.
- (c) Seats and lumber should be removed from under main stairs because of the fire hazard this creates.
- (d) Cluttered condition in boiler room should be remedied.
- (e) Basement floors should be treated to reduce dirt and dust.
- (f) Dressing rooms need to be cleaned up. Lavatory conditions are unhealthy and insanitary. Shower rooms need refinishing. The whole condition of dressing rooms needs urgent and immediate attention.

(g) While improvements have been made in the housing of the library, there is much yet to be done. It is recommended that the possibility of moving the library across the hall to occupy the space now taken up by cloakrooms and run in connection with the study hall be considered.

(h) All doors should be equipped with panic bolts.

STUDENTS TO WRITE SLOGANS ON FOREST FIRE PREVENTION

Some Oregon high school student is going to be famous as a "sloganizer" this summer. The "Show Boat" which the forestry department sends over the state giving shows in schools, granges and other gatherings, will carry, painted along either side the forest fire prevention slogan which the judges consider best of all submitted in the slogan contest now under way in Oregon high schools. The state has been divided into eight groups of counties. A person prize of $5.00 and a school trophy will be awarded for the best slogan from each group. A grand prize of $10.00 and a grand trophy will be awarded for the best slogan of the eight group winners. Entries can be submitted until April 28. The rules will be found on every high school bulletin board, or can be obtained by writing to Slogan Contest, School of Forestry, Corvallis.
