The monthly meeting of the Morrow County Woolgrowers auxiliary scheduled for tomorrow has been cancelled because of the music festival to be held that day. Plans for the June meeting will be announced later, according to Mrs. B. C. Pinckney, president.

Mrs. Harriet Mahoney left Sunday for Los Angeles, where she will make her home with her daughters, Mrs. C. J. Espy, Jr., and Miss Vera Mahoney.

Mrs. Howard Swick, who has been ill in John Day, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home at Monument today.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hamlin and children spent the week end in Portland.

Mrs. Edgar Grimes and infant son returned to their home here from Corvallis Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Thompson and children spent last Friday in Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hyatt and Mrs. Hugh Gaily of Pendleton drove to Heppner Sunday. Mrs. Hyatt is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Phil Mahoney.

Mrs. Harvey Miller was hostess to her bridge club at her home last Friday afternoon at a dessert bridge. Mrs. Loyal Parker won high score.

Mrs. D. M. Ward is spending this week at The Dalles, where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. Karl Farnsworth.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Bayless. Election of officers will be held.

Members of the Episcopal Guild will serve a dinner for 54 teachers of Morrow county at the Parish House tomorrow evening. The guests will be here in connection with the May Day fete.

Mrs. Phil Mahoney will entertain the What's Trumps club at her home this evening.

Members of her duplicate club were entertained by Mrs. Phil Mahoney at her home last Thursday at a dessert bridge. The table was beautifully arranged with lavender and gold flowers, with long gold tapers in crystal holders, on a cloth of lace. In the play which followed, Mrs. C. C. Patterson won high score, with the winning team composed also of Mrs. C. W. McNamer, Mrs. Orville Smith and Mrs. L. E. Dick.

The Wednesday club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Orville Smith for a dessert lunch. Guests were Mrs. Phil Mahoney, Mrs. George Hyatt of Pendleton and Mrs. Jay Hamlin. High score was won by Mrs. Jap Crawford, and second by Mrs. Leonard Schwarz.

Mrs. Claude Graham and Mrs. Harold Buhman entertained with two parties of five tables each Wednesday. The parties were dessert bridges, held at the Buhman home, which was beautifully decorated with tulips. At the afternoon affair Mrs. Harlan McCurdy won high score, and Mrs. Charles Thomson second, and the guests were Mrs. L. E. Bisbee, Mrs. Alden Blankenship, Mrs. Harold Cohn, Mrs. Earl Gilliam, Mrs. Frank Wilkinson, Mrs. C. C. Patterson, Mrs. Anna Bayless, Mrs. Fred Lucas, Mrs. Charles Vaughn, Mrs. L. E. At the evening party, Mrs. George Howard received high score with Mrs. Agnes Curran second, and Mrs. Leonard Schwarz, low. Those playing were Mrs. Dwight Miller, Mrs. Bill Harmon, Mrs. Gene Ferguson, Mrs. B. C. Pinckney, Mrs. Garnet Barratt, Mrs. Ed Parker, Mrs. Schwarz, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Blaine Isom, Mrs. Robert Knox, Mrs. William Bennett, Mrs. Floyd Jones, Mrs. Ray Ferguson, Mrs. Phil Mahoney, Mrs. Orville Smith, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Jasper Crawford, Mrs. Curran, Mrs. Stephen Thompson, Mrs. Earl Gordon.

Joel R. Benton Rites At Pendleton Today

Commitment services are being held in Pendleton at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Joel R. Benton, former Christian minister here, who died suddenly at his home in Marshfield Saturday. Mr. Benton had suffered for some time from a heart ailment. Funeral services were held in Marshfield Tuesday afternoon.

Many friends from here, with pallbearers from the local Elks lodge, are in Pendleton today for the final rites. During his local pastorate, Mr. Benton made many warm friends here whose heartfelt sympathy goes out to the family in their bereavement.

Those going from here as pallbearers are J. J. Wightman, L. E. Bisbee, Harold Cohn, Earle Bryant, Norton Lundell, Logie Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Benton of Pendleton who were visiting in Heppner when news of Mr. Benton's passing was received Saturday evening, and Mrs. Robert A. Jones of this city, a daughter, left immediately for Marshfield. Mr. Benton is survived also by the widow, and son, Robert Benton of Los Angeles.

CHET CHRISTENSON WRITES

DOES GOOD SHOOTING

Though he tied Elmer Tillford of Pendleton at 97 in a handicap match at a trapshoot held in Pendleton Sunday, Dr. A. D. McMurdo says a report that he held high gun for the shoot was incorrect. A coincidence was that he and Tillford tied with each other in both the handicap and doubles matches.

Pierce Discourages Capital Job Seekers

"I certainly hope the time is past when young people will come to Washington to seek employment," said Rep. Walter M. Pierce in a communication this week, in which he urged all young people from his district going to Washington to register immediately upon arrival at his office, room 202, Old House office building. The records in this office should show the Washington residence, the agency by which each is employed, and the names of parents and friends at home, Representative Pierce writes.

"Living conditions are bad. The city is overcrowded; the conditions are totally different from those to which our young people are accustomed," the communication continues. "Those who are overtaken by illness or other misfortune may need help and may need to have someone get into touch with parents. We have always tried to keep track of our young people and to see them at intervals. We also want them to become members of the Oregon Society. Matters have now reached the point where serious conditions are often confronted. Two recent tragedies compel us to make this suggestion."

Representative Pierce points out that practically all the positions in the capital are under Civil Service, which offers many opportunities for those who are qualified.

Local Racket Wielders Best Pendletonians

Heppner high's tennis team took six out of nine matches in tournament play here Tuesday afternoon.

In the boys' singles Hugh Crawford defeated Schiffer 6-4, 6-2, and Bob Pinckney defeated Bowman 6-1, 6-3, for two Heppner wins. Ashworth, Pendleton, defeated Patty O'Hara 6-2, 6-0, while Wanda Howell for the locals won over Parkhurst 6-2, 6-4 in the girls' singles.

The boys' doubles play was split with Tom Starkey and Don Bennett for Heppner downing Planting and Smith 6-2, 6-3, and DeSpain and Shiffer for the visitors topping Glen Fell and Jim Barratt, 6-3, 6-3.

Heppner took both girls' doubles matches. Dorothea Wilson and Kingsley Chapin won from Beaton and Mullica 6-2, 6-1, and Jean Hays and Frances Wilkinson downed Moliter and Terjeson 6-3, 6-2.

State Takes Over Own Reserve for Protection

The state forestry department this week took over 250,000 acres of its reserve in the Heppner district for fire protection, announces F. F. Wehmeyer, ranger for the Umatilla National forest, thus relieving the federal agency from the protective responsibilities over this area that it has held for several years.

The state forest involved is located in the area between Johnson creek, Kinzua and Monument.

Fossil Girl First in Elks Oratorical Meet

Illa Gililand of Fossil placed first in the Elks national defense oratorical contest here Thursday evening in a field of four contestants. Lowell Ashbaugh of Heppner was second, and Doris Scott of Lexington, third. The competition was between high schools within the jurisdiction of Heppner lodge, and drew a large audience. Judges were H. A. Cohn, Earl Gordon and Harvey Miller.

Appearing as part of the program were winners of the recent essay contest, also sponsored by the lodge, who read their compositions. They were Lucille Jones of Irrigon, who placed first; John Doherty and Melvin Brady of Ione, who tied for second, and Katherine Turner of Lexington, third place winner. Awards were also made to winners of both contests by J. G. Barratt, exalted ruler.
