SOCIETY CHIT-CHAT

By JUNE SMITH

Members of the Episcopal auxiliary are making plans to serve the dinner for the junior-senior banquet to be held Saturday evening at the parish house. About 90 will be present.

Mrs. Anna Bayless and Robert Swick drove to Monument Saturday, where they attended the commencement exercises that evening, and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swick. They returned to Heppner Monday morning.

Mrs. Phil Mahoney, Mrs. Jap Crawford and Mrs. B. C. Pinckney spent Friday at Pendleton. While there they visited with Mrs. Mahoney's mother, Mrs. George Hyatt, and Mrs. Joe Belanger.

Mrs. Vawter Parker is entertaining the What's Tramps club at her home this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John McRae and daughter Hilda of Walla Walla were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Sunday. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Stout and daughter Cleora of Portland, who spent Saturday and Sunday with the Howards.

Mrs. Delbert House of Dayton, Wash., mother of Kenneth House, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House the past three weeks, left Wednesday for Pendleton where she will visit until Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. House will meet her and drive her to Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House, accompanied by Mrs. Bud Hanlon and Mrs. Cliff Jennison, spent Tuesday at Pendleton. Mr. House attended a company meeting, and Mrs. Hanlon visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hayes.

Gene Ferguson and James Valentine drove to Spokane Monday, returning the following day.

In honor of her eighth birthday, Patsy Howard was surprised with a party at her home last Friday, given her by her mother. About twenty of her playmates were her guests, and they enjoyed an afternoon of games, followed by the traditional ice cream and birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Isom of Portland spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Isom.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Bibby and daughter of Grass Valley were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bibby from Wednesday to Sunday.

The American Legion auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Bayless, with Mrs. Loyal Parker assisting the hostess. Poppies were made for the Poppy Day sale to be held May 24.

The Bookworms met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Lulu Hager. Mrs. J. O. Turner reviewed the book, "Spring Symphony," by Eleanor Painter.

Mrs. Clarence Rosewall is entertaining the T & C club at her home this afternoon. Guests will be Mrs. Charles Vaughn and Mrs. W. C. McCarty.

Mrs. Harvey Miller and children Marion and Jimmy, and Mrs. Fred Mankin and son Buddy, drove to Thornton, Wash., Friday where they visited Mrs. Mankin's mother, Mrs. Dwight Misner. On Saturday they drove to Spokane, and to visit the Coulee dam, returning to Heppner on Sunday.

Mrs. Gene Ferguson and daughter and Mrs. Ray Ferguson drove to Pendleton today.

Mrs. William Bennett left Wednesday for Yakima, where she will attend a two-day conference for office assistants of the Farm Loan association. On Friday she will go to Seattle where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. Tracy Moberg, until Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Wilkinson entertained her duplicate club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Bayless. The winning team was composed of Mrs. C. W. McNamer, Mrs. L. E. Dick, Mrs. Harold Buhman and Mrs. Gene Ferguson.

With the exception of one daughter, the large family of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bailey of Heppner were all together last Sunday to honor their mother on Mother's day. They included Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Bailey and three children of Kelso, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bailey and two children of Kelso; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stout and three children, of Kelso; Nelson, Jr., of Portland, who was accompanied by Miss Ella Hall, his fiancée; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson and two children of Kimberly; Mr. and Mrs. Don Bowers and three children of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hughes and two children of Heppner, and three sons living at home, Francis, Earl and Albert. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons and son of Spokane were unable to be present.

The family assembled Saturday morning and were together until the evening of Sunday. A group picture of them reveals 34 persons attended the family reunion.

Miss Martha Blair and Miss Margaret Doughty of the Heppner school faculty were complimented at a bridal shower Wednesday night, May 7, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Dick, Jr. The occasion was also a farewell dinner for the several teachers and faculty wives who will not be here next year. The hostess was assisted by Miss Neva Neill. Guests included Miss Blair and Miss Doughty, Miss Mary Lou White, Mrs. Lera Crawford, Miss Jean McElhinny, Mrs. Ethel Clark, Mrs. A. H. Blankenship, Mrs. William Bennett, Mrs. Floyd Jones, and Mrs. Robert Knox.

BRING CCC BOYS

Chet Brown and co-workers, Mr. Beaver and Mr. Richmond, were in the city Saturday from the Monument CCC camp where they are in the soil conservation department. They accompanied the company of CCC enrollees being transferred from their camp, part of whom are now stationed at Heppner and part of whom took the train out from here. Mr. Brown reported that their camp is being re-manned with a company of boys from the south.

Ray Massey arrived home Monday from a two months' trip to Alaska, of which time he spent two weeks in Cordova and a month working in a placer gold mine about a hundred miles inland. Clarence Wise who accompanied him on the northward trip, remained at the mine. Ray reported meeting a number of former eastern Oregon people at Cordova. There was almost a continuous downpour of rain while he was there.

Dairy Cow "Waste" Has Value of $30

The fertilizer output of every dairy cow on the farm would approximate a value of $30 per year if all the nitrogen, phosphorus, potash, and sulfur contained in manure were saved and returned to the soil, according to Arthur S. King, extension specialist in soils at Oregon State college.

The best way to insure the conservation of this value is to build and use a liquid manure tank, according to King. The construction and use of such tanks, either of wood or concrete, are described by King in a new extension circular, No. 368.

Not only does the liquid manure conserve the fertilizing values, but, if properly handled, it greatly reduces the work on a dairy farm, he says. If only limited amounts of bedding are used, all of the manure can be handled through such a tank, while otherwise part of it can be placed under a shed with drainage into the tank.

Where flood irrigation is used on dairy pastures, labor can be still further reduced by arranging to run the liquid manure from the tank into an irrigation ditch where it is spread on the land with the water.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our appreciation to the fire department and others for assisting in subduing the fire at our place.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Green.
