RODEO STORY

through diminished the large supply of baby beefsteaks and listened to cowboy tunes in the cool shade, the 20th Rodeo snapped rapidly through the scheduled program.

Browning Bros. "Aristocrats of the Air" thrilled, it is true, but probably heartstrings were wrenched there more by Saturday's parade.

"Tell the world that it was the finest parade ever staged any place considering resources and population," said Judge Bert Johnson. And his was only one of the many enthusiastic acclamations.

Patriotism was the prevailing motif. From the American Legion boys riding in the lead on a truck inscribed, "We Will Fight Again," and the flagbearer, Clay Porter, throughout the long serpentine the flag was paramount. Sweepstake chamber of commerce float was a flag-like arrangement of red white and blue napkins intricately interwoven. Willows Grange's first place organization float, colorful indeed with its profusion of flowers, products of field, Uncle Sam, Goddess of Liberty, emblematic of husbandry's contribution to national strength, bore the inscription, "In Unity There is Strength." Woolgrowers Auxiliary depicted union of the America's in large maps of wool, inscribed "Wool For Defense," to place second in this division, and the Lions presented their motto, "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," with a Goddess of Liberty standing on high.

Rodeo royalty and officialdom here was joined by that of neigh-

Frank Edmondson

William Franklin Edmondson was born July 12, 1898, at Dufur, Oregon and passed from this life August 14, 1941, at Heppner, Oregon. He was the eldest son of Samuel H. and Melissa Jane Edmondson.

In 1905 the family moved to Madras where he attended school and was graduated from high school in 1917. On September 30, 1918, he married Della Lee Nichols at Madras. The young couple moved on to a ranch near Madras where they lived until they moved to Morrow county in 1933. They took up ranching in Clarks canyon where they lived until the fall of 1940 when they moved into Heppner. Mr. Edmondson was a member of the Christian church and Lexington grange.

Mr. Edmondson leaves to mourn him, his wife, Della, one daughter, Mae Nichols of Enumclaw, Wash., three sons, Leland, Dick and Jack; one son, Lewis Glen having died in 1930, a granddaughter, Phyllis Nichols, his mother, Mrs. Matie J. Huston of Portland, two brothers, Alonzo of Heppner and Maurice of Portland.

Relatives here for the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and daughter Phyllis of Enumclaw, Wash.; Mrs. M. J. Huston and son Maurice of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nichols, Sr., of Redmond, mother and father of Mrs. Edmondson, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nichols, Jr., of Terrebonne. Four sisters of Mrs. Edmondson and their families were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Lynman and their daughters of Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Ramin and one son and two daughters of Medford, Mrs. Archib Brown of Sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Darron and one son of Sisters. Rufus Hill of Redmond accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lynam here to attend the funeral.

boring shows. Queen Maxine of Round-Up, with several attendants, and Queen Jane Oliver of the Grant County fair held places of honor.

The Pendleton Mustangs, 40 strong, and the colorful 32-piece American Legion junior drum corps made a fine display of neighborly relations from the Round-Up city. Heppner's school band, Hazel Fisher's 8-piece all girls dance band on truck assisted in the musical accompaniment, and a long cavalcade of cowboys and cowgirls, pennant bearers, comic entries, pets, 4-H stock all joined to make the two-mile procession a leading entertainment event for the three days.

DEFENSE BOND

Quiz

- Q. Can my children buy Defense Savings Stamps?
- A. Yes. Hundreds of thousands of American children are buying Stamps regularly as their share in the national savings program.
- Q. Why should children be encouraged to buy Savings Stamps?
- A. Because by buying Stamps they write their names on a Roll of Honor of Americans who are doing their part to show the dictators that united America will never flinch to preserve her sacred liberty.
- Q. After my child has collected enough Stamps to exchange for a Bond, can the Bond be registered in the child's name?
- A. Yes. A minor may own a Defense Savings Bond. Many parents are registering Bonds in their children's names to prepare for future educational needs.

NOTE.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.
