Paul Brown Finds Philippines Interesting

Pvt. Paul C. Brown, Co. F, 31st Infantry, Post of Manila, Manila, P. I., writes interestingly of his position in a letter received by the editor this week:

"I have just received my second copy of the Gazette. It would be hard for you to realize just how much enjoyment I get from reading it over here. I want to thank you very much for sending it.

"This trip to Manila has been quite an experience. We left San Francisco on the 6th of June on the American President liner, "Pierce," which the army had just taken over for use as a transport. We docked at Honolulu on the evening of June 11 for a six-hour layover. Our stop there seemed pretty well timed as the Islanders were celebrating the birthday of their king, and it was a very gay occasion, indeed. We had the opportunity there to see some of the real hula dancers. On the morning of the 18th day out of Frisco we passed the island fortress, Corregidor, and entered Manila harbor. We were soon ashore and taken to our recruit camp, which was inside Manila's famous Walled City; it is just across the Pasig river from the principal business section of Manila. We received six weeks of recruit instruction there, most of our close-order drill being done on what is now known as the Sunken Gardens, but what used to be a moat that surrounded the Walled City. I am now doing duty in the district of Estado Mayor, which is a little farther up the Pasig river, but still in the heart of Manila.

Army life over here is a great deal different than what I saw of it in the States. Native Filipino boys do the soldier's K.P., shine his shoes, make his bunk, and keep his equipment ready for inspection for the sum of five pesos a month, equivalent to two and a half dollars American money. That makes it sound pretty soft, doesn't it?

"The thing about this country that has attracted my attention the most is the contrast between the old, native modes of travel and living as compared with the modern ways introduced in here by Americans. For example, in the middle of the downtown traffic one can see the native carromattis (pony-drawn taxi carts) and even sometimes a wagon drawn by a slow-moving carabao; and out on Dewey and Taft boulevards you can see native shacks built on bamboo poles across the street from a modern apartment house. The people, too, as well as their country are quite interesting. To every Filipino, the American soldier is known as "Joe," and vice versa.

"I want to thank you again for the Gazette, and send you my best wishes."

SOCIETY CHIT-CHAT

By JUNE SMITH

The opening of pheasant hunting season yesterday, and the last few days of deer season have brought a number of out-of-town hunters to Heppner. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leash, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Niles, Leo McGee of Portland. Al Neilson, Bill Crawford and Mr. Hayes of Portland are registered at Heppner hotel while hunting. Mr. and Mrs. A. Heller, Mrs. John Parker and son Jay of Portland are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, and enjoying hunting. Gilbert Struve of Pendleton and George Anderson and Bill Mallar of Portland are hunting guests of Bill Isom.

A number of Heppner people drove to Portland last week end to attend the Oregon-California football game. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferguson and Marylou, Mrs. Garnet Barratt and son Jim, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wilson and Dorothea, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones and son Bobby. Harvey Miller also saw the game and attended to business in Portland. Mrs. Spencer Crawford and son Calvin, Mrs. B. C. Pinckney and son Bob, and Tommy Starkey also went down for the game. Mrs. Pinckney and Mrs. Barratt remained in the city until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Parker and daughter and Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Julia Barry, drove to Portland Tuesday of last week, returning on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Doherty plan to attend the Washington - Stanford game at Seattle next week end, leaving Friday and returning on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Donnell returned Friday from a two weeks trip to California, where they visited friends and relatives at Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose.

Mrs. Clarence Rosewall visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. Keys, at Weston last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Dick drove to Ritter Springs last week end and on their return home brought Kemp, who has been taking treatments there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House and children plan to spend the week end in White Bluffs, Wash.

Miss Virginia Thompson of Portland, who is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson, left Tuesday to spend several days visiting friends at Rhea creek.

Mrs. J. G. Thomson, Jr., who had been in California for several months, returned to her home last Sunday.

A number of members of the Episcopal auxiliary drove to Pendleton Wednesday where they attended a luncheon and meeting of the Pendleton auxiliary.

The American Legion auxiliary will hold a sewing meeting the 28th.

The Episcopal auxiliary held a missionary meeting this afternoon at the Parish House with Mrs. Mable Hughes in charge.

Mrs. Anna Bayless and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson were hostesses Saturday afternoon at a bridge luncheon at Mrs. Bayless' home. Five tables were served, and were attractively decorated in fall flowers, as were the rooms. Mrs. Ralph Thompson won high score in the contract bridge game, with Mrs. Charles Vaughn second.

A large dessert bridge party was given Monday afternoon at the Bayless home by Mrs. Anna Bayless and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson. Six tables were in play, with Mrs. L. D. Tibbles winning high score and Mrs. Jap Crawford second. Beautiful fall flowers were used in decorating the rooms and tables.

Mrs. Clarence Rosewall entertained the T & C club at her home last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. H. Cleveland won high score at bridge, and Mrs. Stephen Thompson second. Refreshments were served at the close of play.

The Altar Society is planning a benefit card party to be held at the I. O. O. F. hall next Friday evening, October 31 at 8 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend, and bridge, pinocle and other games will be played. Mrs. D. P. Phelan is chairman of the affair. Refreshments will be served at the close of play.

Their friends will be interested to hear that Danny Dinges and Jack Morton are members of the freshman football team at the University of Oregon.

Mrs. George Howard entertained the What's Trumps club at the Lucas Place last Thursday evening, with Mrs. David Wilson winning high score and Mrs. Vawter Parker low.

Mrs. Frank Connor is hostess to her bridge club at her home this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson are in Pendleton today where Mr. Thompson is attending a meeting of the Pendleton Production Credit association. Mrs. Thompson will be a guest at a luncheon Mrs. Walter Moore is giving for the wives of the directors of the association, and bridge will be played by the ladies in the afternoon.
