Hardman Youth Moved to S. Carolina

By ELSA M. LEATHERS

As the elk season draws to a close Guy Chapin, Sabin Hastings both got nice cow elk, and Chas. McDaniel got a 6-point bull.

F. M. Miller returned home this week after spending the summer in the mountains with the Ball and Mahoney sheep, is suffering from the flu. Marvin Brannon and Junior Leathers are also victims.

Word has been received here from Jim Stevens that he has now been sent to Fort Jackson in South Carolina. He was stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., then in Camp Polk, La. He is supposed to be discharged Dec. 10. Another Morrow county boy that has gone far is Roger Howell, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDaniel, Sr. He is stationed in the Hawaiian islands, and likes it very much. He states in a recent letter he is very glad that we are getting good rains. (He doesn't know just what kind of rains we've had here in Morrow county this summer.) He says the climate is nearly the same all the time.

Mrs. Delvin McDaniel, Mrs. Walter Wright and Miss Cecelia Bell served lunch to the Rebekahs here Tuesday evening, when they initiated Miss Lois Hewitt and Mrs. Stanley Robinson into the order.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Saling of Galena visited in town Tuesday on their way home from Portland.

Mrs. Roger Thomas, Morrow county health nurse, visited the schools here Wednesday morning, also arranging for the pre-school age clinic that will be held here in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buschke have visited this week at their son Claud's home in the mountains and with Max in town on Saturday. They returned to their home in Heppner Saturday evening.

Fred Reed is doctoring in Pendleton and will be operated on. Mr. Reed had been suffering from gall stones and has been quite ill the last week.

Mrs. Hershall Townsend is visiting her mother, Mrs. B. H. Bleakman, and Mrs. Raymond Reed, a sister, this week. Mrs. Townsend spent the summer near La Grande and returned only this week.

Mrs. Clarence Rogers visited in Kinzua Sunday, going over with Robert Rogers and Nona Inskip.

Everett Hadley left Sunday to work at the Zornes camp.

Mrs. Elma Harshman and son visited at Miss Les Robinson's Saturday and Sunday. Miss Vera McDaniel spent the week end here, too, from Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rogers went to Portland Saturday on business.

Many Prizes to be Offered at 5th State Corn Show

Premium lists for the fifth annual Oregon State Corn show, to be held at Corvallis December 12 and 13, have just been issued showing a long list of prizes and awards, although a few changes have been made from previous years. Copies of the premium list may be had at any county agent's office.

The state has been divided into three districts instead of four as in previous years. All the counties east of the Cascades plus the southern Frank Saling, and low to Vastie Saling and Ted Jaross.

Lucille Wattenburger had the misfortune Saturday to get her car door shut on her hand. No bones were broken.

Mrs. George Currin and son Tommy and Mrs. John Harrison were dinner guests Monday evening at the E. B. Wattenburger home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Doherty of Alpine spent Sunday with Mrs. Doherty's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Daly.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ayers, Roy Ayers and Roy Coxen spent Armistice day in Hermiston and took in the football game between Heppner and Hermiston.

Oregon counties from Douglas south are included in one district this year. The northern Willamette valley and coast counties with Hood River comprise another district, with Benton, Linn, Lane, Marion, Polk, and Lincoln counties making up the other.

Five classes are again provided and these consist of an open class for growers of open pollinated corn, a hybrid class, a hybrid corn yield contest, and a class each for 4-H club and FFA corn growers, in which either open pollinated or hybrid corn may be entered.

Exhibits for the open class for adults and the two youth groups consist of 10 ears each, while for the hybrid class, 20 ears are to be entered, 10 of which will be shelled by the management. For the hybrid corn yield contest, exhibits are to be sent in by the county agent and must represent at least three acres of corn.

Eight cash prizes are offered in most of the classes, ranging from $5 down to $1. In the yield contest five cash prizes will be given, ranging from $9 down to $2.

Other features of the corn show this year will include the various adult and youths' corn judging contest, and the state corn shucking contest. An educational program will also be held each afternoon.
