ence. Will Steen of Milton was elected president, Millard Eakin of Grass Valley, vice-president; C. W. Smith of Corvallis, secretary-treasurer, and county committeemen, with exception of Union and Wasco to be selected later, as follows: A. R. Staggs, Wallowa; Terrel Benge, Morrow; George Webb, Gilliam; Herbert Root, Sherman; Jens Terjeson, Umatilla, and Hiram White, Jefferson.

An appeal was made Saturday by R. E. Brown, president of Farm Credit association of Spokane for farmers to lower capital indebtedness while prices are good in anticipation of darker days that are certain to follow.

While visitors from Idaho, Washington, Montana (and one from Kansas) joined men from all over Oregon to bring one of the largest assemblages ever to attend an Eastern Oregon Wheat League conference, only a third of rooms in private homes listed for the occasion were used. Seven Pullmans helped relieve the local housing problem. Ladies of the Methodist, Episcopal and Christian churches served luncheons Friday and Saturday to relieve congestion at regular commercial eating places.

E. R. Fatland presided at the big banquet Friday evening when 585 people were served and were through eating within an hour and ten minutes from time of arrival of the first plate. Engineered by Harold Cohn, assistance in the serving was given by Dorothy Davolt and her high school home economics students, also assisted by high school boys. Seated at the speakers' table with Fatland were Mr. Myers, president Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane; Dean W. A. Schoenfeld of O. S. C.; Prof. U. G. Dubach, speaker of the evening; C. W. Smith, league secretary; N. E. Dodd, R. E. Brown, Carl Engdahl, E. Harvey Miller, the general chairman; Sim J. Culley, league president. Entertainment included tap dancing by Yvonne Bleakman and Lois Mae Vance; vocal trio by Patty O'Hara, Peg Tamblin and Dorotha Wilson, accompanied by Norbert Peavy, and vocal trio, Misses Duvall, Hoosier and Wright, accompanied by Marjorie Parker. Introduction of many noted visitors was made.

LEAGUE SPEAKERS BRING LATE WORD ON WORLD SITUATION

the need for bothersome priorities; as he declared that AAA does not yet control all agriculture, and as he brought the story of what he saw in England. He appealed for whole-hearted support of farmers in raising those commodities now asked to succor the British, commodities that can be shipped and which are vitally necessary to the British morale.

England is far from beaten, but her people are undernourished. They look pretty good, but their diet has been overbalanced with protein and they do not have the stamina, said Mr. Evans. It is necessary for miners, for instance, to take one day off a week in order to retain strength to carry on. The industrial minister told Mr. Evans that all industrial production could be increased 20 percent with proper foods.

Mr. Evans personally witnessed and felt the impact of a bombing attack on a British air field. He visited all parts of the country and mingled with people of every stratum, as a member of a commission sent by the president to learn the true food situation. Investigation was made of how England is applying her own efforts to meet the food demand, and it was found the government has taken over all farms "for the duration" and is directing all food production in an efficient manner.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Evans was told of the unanimous action of the league in backing the new amended AAA program.

and he was given a showing of hands of those farmers who were now willing to sell their wheat for the loan in order to help clear the way for a new crop.

In his banquet address, Dr. Dubach made strong appeal for a united America to defeat the ideology of would-be world conquerors, such as Germany and Japan were asserted to be. He gave first-hand anecdotes from personal observations in those countries of how this ideology has worked for many years.

Relating how he himself had just missed being a European peasant, having come to this country when one year of age, he told how he had worked his way through several American colleges without a thin dime to start on, and asked if that could have been done in any European country. This was cited as one of many reasons why "I love America," oft-repeated by the speaker.

AAA Committee Going to Corvallis

Reporting on another outstanding year for the Morrow County Agricultural Conservation association, members of the county AAA committee are leaving this week end for Corvallis, where they will attend the annual state AAA conference, Dec. 15-17, at Oregon State college.

Representing the county association at the conference will be Henry Baker, R. B. Rice, Oscar Peterson, C. D. Conrad and M. E. Cummings. Problems and achievements of the 1941 AAA program in this county will be reported on by the local delegation, as well as suggested application of next year's program and recommendations for 1943.

Final date for loan applications is December 31, the local office announced.
