Food Clubs Eligible For FSA Loan Aid

Food for Freedom clubs, including Future Farmers organizations, 4-H clubs, and all groups of young people and adults carrying out projects for production of war foods will be eligible for loan assistance from the Farm Security administration, announces Bruce E. Stewart, county FSA supervisor, Heppner Hotel building, Heppner.

"Farm boy and girls have an important part to play in the production of food for victory," said Stewart. "However, some may need credit facilities to purchase livestock, garden tools, seed, feed, fertilizer, and production goods to participate in the Food for Freedom clubs in their neighborhood."

Farm Security has been authorized to make individual participation loans to all young farm people as well as adults engaged in formally organized and supervised Food for Freedom projects, explained Stewart. Loans will bear only three percent interest and can be made for five years for purchase of recoverable goods such as a livestock and equipment, and one year for non-recoverable goods such as feed, seed and fertilizer.

Eligibility for loans to members of Food for Freedom clubs require that they belong to formally organized and supervised projects and have land resources where necessary. Projects may include dairy, pig, poultry, rabbit, sheep, garden and similar enterprises. Detailed information may be secured from the county FSA office.

MAKES LIBRARY PRESENT

Heppner Public library this week received an autographed copy of "A Grazier Goes Abroad," from Marvin Klemme, newly announced candidate for the republican nomination to congress from the second congressional district. The book relates Klemme's observations of agricultural practices and farm conditions in thirty foreign countries which he visited in 1938 just at the beginning of the European conflagration.

P. P. & L. Has 100 Pct. Defense Bond Sign-Up

Every regular member of the entire Pacific Power & Light company organization has enlisted in the campaign to raise money for war purposes through purchase of U. S. defense savings bonds, Homer Beale, district manager for the company, revealed today.

Altogether, the power workers will turn over nearly $70,000 a year from their wages and salaries for bonds to supply money with which the nation can build planes, tanks, guns, ships and other weapons for war against the axis, Beale said.

One hundred percent status for the nearly 800 men and women in the electric organization was reached within three weeks after the company made available a voluntary payroll allotment plan for systematic bond purchases.

Average subscription by those participating through the payroll plan is $8.30 a month, with all departments of the company from linemen to executives and from power plant crews to salesmen and clerks, taking part.

TIRE ALLOTMENT TAKEN

Tires issued Morrow county for February have all been taken, and the March quota has not yet been received, announced Alva W. Jones, chairman of the rationing board yesterday. A new ruling received this week places ministers in preferred class for tires. A list of those to whom tires have been issued is posted in the board's office upstairs in the bank building.

Safeway

Are Food Prices REALLY High?

It is not Safeway's policy to attract trade with temporary "hot-shot specials," nor to cut prices below cost. But if others make such prices—Safeway will meet them, item by item, day by day. More important still, customers are finding ALL Safeway prices are low—EVERY DAY.

Yes, food prices are higher than they were—a little, but they're still not really high. Why? Mother can easily remember when coffee was over 50 cents a pound, butter 70 cents a pound, flour $3.00 a sack and many other such high prices. Though it's unlikely prices will go that high ever again, still, it may be you ARE paying too much for foods—MORE than market conditions warrant. War time is no time for waste—of money or anything else, and so that you may have some basis of comparing prices, we have catalogued this list below. Safeway's policy—pricing every item as low as possible—plus efficient management and an absence of credit and delivery costs make low prices like these possible. It will pay you to shop at Safeway for all your foods.

Are You Paying More Than These Low SAFEWAY Prices?
