

Farmers Buy Bonds With AAA Checks

Uncle Sam got a quick turnover on the first three 1941 AAA checks received by farmers in Linn county. Floyd Jenks, chairman of the AAA committee in that county, reports.

Taking the payments they earned for improving their farms by performing soil building practices, the three men, C. L. Newport of Tangent, W. A. Leach of Albany, and Anton Hronas, Scio, went directly from the county office to the post office and converted the entire amount into defense bonds.

"Besides producing the food America needs to win this war and turning in their scrap iron to boost armament production, Oregon farmers are doing their share of bond buying to finance the war," commented R. B. Taylor, chairman of the Oregon USDA war board.
