Wartime Hose Care Needs New Methods

Women's hosiery being manufactured now frequently is made of a combination of materials requiring more care in washing and drying, says Miss Lucy R. Lane, extension specialist in clothing and textiles at Oregon State college.

One instance is the combined rayon and nylon hosiery. Where hose are made with a nylon leg and a rayon top and foot, the nylon portion absorbs little moisture and dries more quickly than the rayon, even though the latter may appear dry.

Because rayon loses some of its tensile strength when wet, damage is frequently caused by wearing the hose before the rayon portions are completely dry. The weakened rayon will not stand the strain of fastening under such conditions, says Miss Lane. Furthermore, the nylon fiber, being stronger than the wet rayon, is likely to cut through the rayon fiber where the leg portion joins the foot or the top. The trouble can be avoided by making sure that the hose are completely dry before using.

Monte Bundy left by car Monday for Prescott, Ore., to accept a position as a guard. He had been working for some time at the Stephen Thompson ranch.

SOCIETY CHIT-CHAT

By JUNE SMITH

A good crowd attended the junior class play presented at the school auditorium last Friday. "Her Incubator Husband" proved to be one of the most amusing plays given here, and the cast was both very well chosen, and did a very good job.

Philip Cohn as Felix Mudge, displayed unusual talent, while Jimmy Barratt as Roy Honeywell, kept the audience laughing with his troubles. Kingsley Chapin, as Anna turned in a very good performance, as did Colleen Kilkenny as Mrs. Updike. Helen Fortner, as Mrs. Ellis, had a difficult part which she handled nicely, while Vera McDaniel was very pleasing as Elaine. Dorothea Wilson, Patty O'Harra, Eunice Hiatt and James Kenny all contributed much to the success of the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cohn and Sally left Wednesday morning for California. They were driven as far as Pendleton by son Phil, where they took the plane for Salt Lake City. From there they planned to journey by train, taking the streamliner for Los Angeles. There they will be met by car, and driven to the Imperial valley, where they will visit Mr. Cohn's aunt, Mrs. Gussie Magaw. They expected to be gone about eight days.

Mrs. Blanche Brown, whose home burned last week, is staying at the Frank Turners until she can take possession of another home she owns, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and family. The Howards will lease the home owned by Mrs. Anna Q. Thomson.

Mrs. Frank Wilkinson and daughter Shirley and Mrs. Anna Bayless drove to Pendleton Wednesday afternoon.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a ladies night enjoyed the evening at the Elks club last Thursday evening. Six tables of contract bridge were in play in the ladies' lounge, with high score going to Mrs. Richard Lawrence, and Mrs. Earl Gilliam receiving consolation. Four tables of pinochle were in play, with Miss Elaine Sigsbee winning high score and Mrs. Gladys Snider consolation. Dancing and a lunch followed.

Mrs. Ed Parker and Mrs. Conley Lanham drove to Walla Walla last Thursday.

The missionary meeting of the Episcopal auxiliary was held this afternoon at the Parish House with Mrs. Harold Buhman, president, in charge. A united thank offering day program was presented. Mrs. L. E. Dick gave two chapters of "Christian Roots of Democracy in America."

Mrs. Frank Wilkinson entertained her duplicate club at the home of Mrs. Anna Bayless last Wednesday afternoon with a dessert lunch. Winning team for the afternoon was Mrs. L. E. Dick, Mrs. Harold Buhman, Mrs. Mark Merrill and Mrs. Bayless. A guest was Mrs. O. Young of Portland.

The Bookworms met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. E. Dick when the book, "The Moon is Down," by John Steinbeck, was reviewed by Mrs. J. O. Turner. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The Past Matrons club met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Hanson Hughes. Two tables of bridge were in play, with Mrs. L. E. Dick winning high score and Mrs. Gene Ferguson receiving consolation.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary met at the Masonic hall Tuesday afternoon to sew for the Red Cross. Mrs. Anna Bayless urges any woman who can sew and has some spare time to come to the hall any week afternoon and help with this Red Cross work. She also announces there is still yarn to be given to knitters for both Army and Red Cross knitting.

Mrs. Victor Peterson of The Dalles, who is visiting her mother at Ione, spent Monday at Heppner visiting friends. Wednesday afternoon a number of Heppner ladies, including Mrs. L. E. Dick, Mrs. Alden Blankenship, Mrs. Earl Blake, Mrs. Kenneth Blake and Mrs. Ture Peterson attended a party given in her honor in Ione.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House drove to Pendleton today to spend several hours with Mr. House's sister and brother-in-law, Major and Mrs. Theodore Turner, who arrived there from Maryland, and left on the next train for an army destination.

Mrs. Robert Thompson and Kathryn arrived here last week end from Corvallis, where Mrs. Thompson had been visiting her daughter. Kathryn left Sunday to return to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wood and daughter Judy of White Bluffs, Wn., will be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Isom and daughter drove to Yakima last week end to visit Mr. Isom's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham.

Mrs. Frank Davidson will entertain her duplicate club at Lucas Place tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Mahoney drove to Portland on Sunday, where Mr. Mahoney was called by the death of his aunt, Miss Elizabeth Mahoney. While there they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mayle.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehmeyer returned hastily from their vacation trip Tuesday when they learned their son Carl, who had not been home for eight years, was in Heppner on a two-day leave. They had left the previous Thursday and after visiting in Portland and Seattle, were in northwest Washington.

Mrs. Leonard Schwarz entertained the Wednesday club at the home of Mrs. Raymond Ferguson yesterday at a dessert bridge. Two tables were in play with Mrs. B. C. Pinckney high and Mrs. Jasper Crawford, second.

Mrs. C. C. Patterson left Sunday to visit her daughter, Mrs. LeGrand Guild and family at Snohomish, Wn.
