Ione, July 28.—A serious fire occurred north of Ione last Thursday afternoon, when in some manner the stubble in Garland Swanson's field became ignited from the combine. About fifty-five acres of cut and standing barley belonging to Swanson was destroyed, as well as about thirty acres of standing grain and several hundred sacks of threshed grain belonging to Johnson Bros. in the adjoining field. Swanson had about seven hundred sacks of barley in the field, and about four hundred fifty sacks of this was burned. He carried insurance, but Johnson Bros. had none. The fire was controlled by volunteer fire fighters greatly aided by a tractor and disc plows. At 3 o'clock the next morning J. A. Troedson discovered that the fire had revived, and promptly notified the fire warden, who called out the neighbors. Shovels and a tractor checked the fire again, when it was within a few feet of heavy standing grain.
