

Miss America, 1951

This year thousands of American communities will furnish free school lunches to strengthen the health of our youth. Food from the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture helps to make these lunches possible.

Lexington Youth Killed in Action

Friends here were grieved to hear of the telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Warner saying that their son Kenneth was killed in action. Kenneth was a member of the R. A. F. Besides his parents, he is survived by his brother Vernon and his sister, Mrs. Clarence Hayes; also a number of aunts and uncles.

Frances and Freddy Papineau took their cousin, Jay Totterdell, to Fendleton Wednesday on his way to his home in Nevada.

Elmer Hunt returned home from Portland Monday and is working with the state highway department.

Kenneth Peck, ensign in the navy spent four days last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Peck.

Faye Rauch is spending a few days at the Al Fetsch home

Margaret Miller spent last week in Portland.

Freida Breeding is confined to her home by illness.

George Steagall motored to Portland Monday.

George Tucker left Saturday night to start army training.

Stanley Way is visiting his parents while on furlough from Fort Lewis.

An Alabama farmer, with a 654-pound dead hog on his hands, remembered the fats salvage campaign and telephoned the State rationing officer who made arrangements to have the animal rendered down for use against the Axis.

Through new steel alloy processes Army Ordnance saved enough nickel to supply the needs of 46,000 heavy tanks and 17,000 75 mm. howitzers.

Yes, We Have Gas Rationing!

And that brings furniture into the picture more clearly than for many years. The home will have greater significance to most of us, for doubtless we will spend more time there than has been the rule since the automobile made it possible for us to gad around so much.

Now is the time to make the home just as comfortable and attractive as your means will permit. Right now we can offer you many items—pieces you may have been contemplating for a long time . . . a new rug, or new linoleum; a new bedroom suite, a comfortable chair; Golden Star polish, wax or mop, which will be a real joy to the housekeeper for 1943—or a score or more of other useful and decorative articles which beautify the house and make it a real home.

Come in today and let us show you how you can take advantage of gas rationing to make living more enjoyable.
