

Mrs. America Meets the War

Call it Salisbury steak ground round steak or just hamburger, but OPA rationing regulations set up a definition of this popular meat item including specifications for retail dealers to follow. If a housewife wants to use some of her point stamps for round steak, chuck rump or sirloin ground, she will buy these in whole form, paying the correct number of points, and then have them ground to order. But if she buys ready ground hamburger, defined as "beef ground from necks, flanks, shanks, briskets, plates and miscellaneous beef trimmings and beef fat" he will not be required to pay more than five points a pound. Of course, the point stamps needed to obtain meat, chickens, canned fish and edible fats and oils under the new rationing program which went into effect March 29, are the red stamps in War Ration book two.

No increase in points for the processed foods rationing program is intended for the new ration period. During April Mrs. America will have 48 points to spend for her purchases of canned, frozen and dried fruits and vegetables and all soups. These points will be obtained by the blue stamps in War Ration Book two bearing the letters D, E, and F. The blue stamps A, B, and C were out March 31.

Perhaps Mrs. America has made up her mind that fine linens are to be chalked up as a wartime casualty for whatever fibres are available in this country go for essential war use first. And besides the United States is not equipped to manufacture luxurious linens for there are practically no spindles, looms, the proper type of flax or trained labor for this type of production. If some of your precious linen possessions bear the names of France, Belgium, Austria, Czechoslovakia stamped in the selvage, realize these are truly relics. Other linen-making countries of Russia, Ireland, Switzerland, certainly cannot spare much labor for non-essentials, and neither, and neither is there cargo space for luxuries. So obviously, handkerchief linen, dress linen, drapery and upholstery linen and table damask should be handled with greatest of care for a decrease in their availability is inevitable.

Want something new and different for your family's dinner: Shark steak is a suggestion of the office of the coordinator of fisheries, which reports that war has introduced soupfin shark meat into the American kitchens. It was revealed that tasty shark, in either kippered or lightly smoked form is becoming more available. Kipperd shark is said to have a flavor similar to smoked salmon and it is also pale pinkish orange in color.

Costume jewelry counters will continue to intrigue Mrs. America even if there are necessarily substitutes for critical metals. Look for bracelets of straw and plastic earrings. Pins of wood, shell necklaces and glass beads are other items which brighten costume jewelry counters.

And still on the department store's main floor, a look at the glove counter shows little change by the war so far in dress gloves. However, goatskin, horsehide and capeskin are less available, and many skilled glovemakers are now engaged in war production. As for handbags, war needs have a priority on leather, and the frames must be made of non-critical plastics. Neither are metal nor critical plastics allowable for zippers. Further on the subject of leather goods, luggage and small leather accessories no longer can be made of cattle hide, calf or kid leather.

4-H Beef Club Names Woman as Group Leader

Morrow county's 4-H Beef club will be in keeping with the times this year as the club has elected to have a woman for their leader this year.

Gladys Cutsforth, of Lexington, was selected as leader by the group of 12 members at their organization meeting last Saturday.

Betty Baker of Eightmile, was elected as president of the group, Gene Cutsforth as vice-president, and Mildred Carlson, Eightmile, secretary.

All members of the club have their beef animals on feed and most of the calves will be exhibited at the Pacific International Livestock exposition next October.

Individual calves to be fed out by this club will furnish nearly 12,000 pounds of baby beef for the Food for Freedom program this year, while Gene Cutsforth is feeding out an additional 58 head of steers.

This beef club is the largest of its type ever to be organized in Morrow county and includes the following boys and girls: Freddy Rugg, Heppner; Lois Carlson, Ione; Hilmuth Herman, Lexington; Ingrid Herman, Lexington; Faye Cutsforth, Lexington; Vesta Cutsforth, Lexington; Betty Baker, Ione; Mildred Carlson, Ione; Helen Faye Baker, Ione; Robert Peterson, Ione; Gene Cutsforth, Lexington; Jean Rauch, Lexington.

CAROLYN VAUGHN BRIDE OF ROBERT NEWLAND

An item of interest to Heppner friends was published in the Morning Oregonian early this week, and follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Vaughn announce the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn to Robert Warren Newland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Newland of Medford. The ceremony was read March 20, at 7 p. m., at St. Mary's Episcopal church in Eugene, Rev. E. S. Bartlam officiating.

The bride wore a wood violet wool costume suit with matching hat and veil and corsage of orchids.

Miss Jeanne Villair of Grants Pass was the bride's only attendant. She wore a brown wool suit with green accessories and corsage of gardenias.

William Davis of Grants Pass was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Newland will be at home at Eugene where Mr. Newland is finishing his studies at the University of Oregon.

NOT JUST A BOLT OF YARD GOODS...

smart pajamas...
new clothes for the kids.

NOT just a bolt of Yard Goods, it's much more than that! It's the hundreds of useful and pretty things into which the clever fingers of women can transform it. In a sense, this simple bolt of Yard Goods symbolizes a great American business—the J. C. Penney Company.

From the outside this first Penney store looked far from impressive. Inside, though, people discovered it was different. For it set a new pattern of low-cost retail store service as neighborly and as typically American as ride-sharing and quilting bees!

Yard Goods were a major part of the stock in trade of Mr. J. C. Penney's first little store—opened 41 years ago in Kemmerer, Wyoming.

Mr. Penney didn't think "How much can I take!" but "How much can I give?" He cut out useless frills, charge accounts and deliveries; pared prices to the bone; preferred many sales at small profit to a few at large profit.

THE PENNEY IDEA GREW—TODAY PENNEY STORES DOT THE MAP!

Kemmerer took to that first Penney store! So did Moscow, Idaho later on. And Salt Lake City, Utah. And San Antonio, Texas. And today there are over 1600 Penney stores in all 48 states.

For every hundred dollars worth of sheets, or blankets, or shoes, or yard goods the Penney store sells in Peoria, Illinois or Scranton, Pennsylvania, or Savannah, Georgia, it pays back honest and substantial savings. For every hundred dresses, or shirts, or overalls it sells in Waltham, Massachusetts, or Stockton, California, or Chillicothe, Ohio, it pays back rich dividends in local salaries, advertising, rent and taxes.

Today Penney stores from Coast to Coast, in neighborly fashion, are helping to balance the household budgets of millions of Americans. Today Mr. Penney's 41 year old idea of success through giving, rather than taking, is still the Penney way.
