Costs Money to Fight a War

This government is spending 240 million dollars a day to meet war expenses and regular governmental operations. It is stated by no less an authority than the secretary of the treasury that about 96 percent of that amount is being used to back the war effort and that as time goes on the war expense will increase. That is to be expected. Amassing of a greater fighting force and a constantly increasing supply of war materiel make it imperative that more money be spent. We have reached a point where we cannot turn back, or stop to talk economy—if there were a ghost of a show to accomplish anything in that direction—but must push ahead in preparation for that "hay-maker" which we know will have to be delivered to put the Axis out of action.

In a few weeks will start a fund campaign without parallel in American history. The government is asking the people—the people, mind you, and not the banks—to buy $15,000,000,000 worth of bonds to help carry on the war. In round figures this is only two billion dollars more than was asked in the second war lion, but in that campaign the banks took a generous slice and a grand total of 17 billion plus was rung up on the treasury's cash register. That two billion looks insignificant in the light of the national debt, yet it raises the per capita quota approximately 15 percent.

There is little possibility that the bond sale will fall short of the mark. It is more likely to be oversold as in the past. The major problem is to sell the people on the idea of investing in freedom and security and in this task the newspapers, radio and other publicity agencies will again play leading roles. This fact has been pressed home by treasury officials, who fully appreciate the value of proper publicity and who are placing their faith in this method of getting the word over to the public.

In all of this effort the Gazette Times aims to do its part. On the opposite page, you will find a message from the treasury department which we think well worth your careful study. It is this newspaper's contribution to the opening of the campaign. There will be numerous other advertisements which we feel sure our business houses, co-operatives, group or individuals will wish to sponsor.

Barlow-Walker Nuptials Scheduled For Friday Evening

Friends of the contracting parties are invited to attend the wedding of Margaret Lucille Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barlow of Heppner and Pfc Robert C. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker of Goldendale, Wash. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock p. m. Friday, Aug. 20 in the auditorium of the Church of Christ, the pastor, O. Wendell Herison officiating. Miss Kathryn Parker will sing d'Hardelot's "Be-cause," accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Wells.

A public reception will be held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

The bride-to-be is a popular and talented young lady and since her graduation from Heppner high school has been employed in the business office of the J. C. Penney company. Pfc Walker, prior to his induction in the army, was employed in the Coxen barber shop.

Following a brief honeymoon trip to Portland, the young people will return to their respective positions.

CORWINS RETURN

City Supt. George Corwin and family returned to Heppner Tuesday after spending most of the summer vacation at Hood River. Mr. Corwin spent the first six weeks attending summer school at University of Oregon, joining his family at Hood River about the middle of July. He brought one of the children and a trailer load of supplies home Saturday evening and returned to Hood River Monday to bring the rest of the family home.

HELPING UNCLE HARVEST

Bobby Griffin, son of Francis Griffin of The Dalles, is helping his uncle Phil Griffin during the grain harvest.

UP FROM THE DALLES

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Morgan were week-end visitors in Heppner, coming from The Dalles where Mr. Morgan is engaged in fruit work. "Sox" likes the work but after a day or so in the old home town, both hated to return to the city on the river.

Mrs. Pauline Boyer of Seattle who has been a guest of Mrs. Della Corson at Ione the past week, accompanied Mrs. Ruby Kincaid and two sons to Heppner Tuesday evening to spend the night here. Mrs. Boyer has made her home in Seattle the past four years.

Stove Rationing to Go Into Effect Tuesday, August 24

The plan for nation-wide rationing of domestic heating and cooking stoves designed to burn coal, wood, oil or gas will go into effect at 12:01 a. m. Aug. 24, the OPA announced today. Beginning that date all consumer purchases of rationed stoves must be made with a certificate obtainable at the War Price and Rationing board.

Important dates, affecting primarily trade operations under the nation-wide plan to assure distributable new stoves to users needing them most, follow:

Aug. 24: New stove rationing plan effective. Consumers must obtain certificates from War Price and Rationing boards before buying stoves. Old certificates used in previous stove rationed areas no longer valid.

Sept. 1 Beginning this date all orders accepted by manufacturers, distributors or dealers must be accompanied by certificates except for orders by or through exempt federal agencies which must be based on WPB priority evidence.

Sept. 1, 2 and 3. Dealers and distributors must register with the War Price and Rationing boards. This includes dealers and distributors in areas previously rationed.

Sept. 3. Last day that dealers and distributors can sell rationed stoves without having filed registration statement with their ration board.

Sept. 15. Last day that rationed stoves may be transferred on certificate credit by manufacturers and distributors. A certificate credit may be given to consumers. All orders on the books of manufacturers and distributors received before Sept. 1 must have been shipped, covered by certificates, or cancelled.

Sept. 30. Last day for distributors collecting certificates on shipments made on certificate credit.

Oct. 7. Last day for manufacturers collecting certificates due on shipments made on certificate credit.

The next important step for the dealer, from the standpoint of his business, will be his registration on Sept. 1, 2 or 3 with the War Price and Rationing board serving the area in which his place of business is located.

OPA emphasizes all establishments which deal in rationed stoves must register. Such establishments include department hardware, or appliance stores that sell stoves. They also include dealers who have no rationed stoves in stock but who normally handle stoves that are being rationed.

GUESTS OF TURNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ladusire of Eugene were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Turner. They came Thursday and on Friday drove to La Grande on a business mission, returning that evening. Sunday, members of the Turner family residing in the county gathered at the Frank Turner home for an afternoon of visiting.

Mrs. Rodger Thomas, county health nurse, and Mrs. Edna Turner drove to Portland Tuesday to spend a few days.

Mrs. O. B. Walker left Tuesday for her home in Seattle, stopping at Ione to visit a couple of days with her father, Ed Adkins

Clarence H. Schoenberger has been employed to teach the Rood canyon school, according to Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, county superintendent. The district elected to go on its own this year, although there are but two or three children scheduled to attend the school.

Mrs. C. H. Schoenberger is sponsor of a bridal shower being given Mrs. Larry Stephens this afternoon at the Schoenberger home. The marriage of Larry Stephens and Lavinia Sloan was an event of Aug. 1 in the bride's home at Tulare, Calif.

Corwin Elected Library President

George Corwin, city school superintendent, was elected president of the Heppner Public Library association at the annual meeting of the group. Mrs. E. O. Ferguson was elected vice president, Mrs. Blaine E. Isom secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Della Davidson librarian, Mrs. Floyd Jones having turned in her resignation.

A statistical report for the past fiscal year was read. To comply with the state library fiscal year an amendment to the constitution of the library was read, making the fiscal year ending June 30 of each year instead of Dec. 31 as formerly. Officers terms will last until the third Saturday of July when the annual meeting of the association is to be held.

Committee appointments were as follows: Membership—Mrs. H. A. Cohn, Mrs. Ed Parker, Josephine Mahoney.

CALLED TO THE DALLES

Mrs. J. O. Turner, Mrs. R. B. Ferguson and Mrs. L. B. Schwarz were called to The Dalles Friday due to the serious condition of their mother, Mrs. Cora Crawford. W. V. and Jasper Crawford also came from Portland. A few hours after her children arrived, Mrs. Crawford showed some improvement, and by Monday evening all returned home. Mrs. Turner returned to The Dalles Wednesday to be with her mother for a few days.

HERE FROM PORTLAND

Mr. and Mrs. John Parker and children drove in from Portland late Monday evening. Leaving the children at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Parker, they drove to Pendleton Tuesday in quest of living quarters, since the state tax department is transferring Mr. Parker to that city to cover the northeastern part of the state as auditor.
