

Community Church Observes Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

By MARGARET THORPE

The 25th anniversary of the Community church was celebrated last Sunday with a program and a pot dinner. A very large crowd attended the meeting. The program consisted of a long talk by Mrs. Sam Boardman who told of the starting of the Sunday school and the first years after the church was built. Mrs. Boardman was the first Sunday school superintendent, first president of the Ladies Aid and a member of the first board of trustees. Several letters were read from old timers who were unable to attend. Out of town guests at the celebration were Mrs. Sam Boardman, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berger and family of The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond and family and Lois Messenger of The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. George Corwin and family and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wicklander, Heppner; Mr. and Mrs. Truman Messenger of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Al Macomber and family, Spray, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barlow and family of Hanford. Most of these guests spent the week-end here visiting friends and relatives.

First Snowfall of Season Hits Blue Mountains Tuesday

By MRS. HAROLD KIRKHAM

Snow to the depth of about one inch fell in the mountains Tuesday morning, reminding residents of the timbered areas that winter is just around the corner. The folks at Wetmore awoke to find rain falling and this quickly changed to snow. The storm had passed by the time an inch of the "beautiful" had fallen. Work at Camp Wetmore was not interrupted, neither was road construction halted. Snow covered the ground to about three miles south of Hardman.

Camp Wetmore library continues to be a center of interest for many families. An effort is being made to keep the shelves stocked with interesting reading material and recently 25 new books were received.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fayne of Pendleton spent the week-end in this locality hunting. While here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nate McBride.

Miss Della Ison of The Dalles has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kirkham the past two weeks.

Louis LeTrace has moved his family to Butter creek where they will make their home. The house occupied by the LeTraces has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Sie Walker.

How's it Back Home?

Send him a real slice of home through the USO--one of the 17 major war relief agencies that have banded together with our own community agencies this year to bolster morale and relieve distress on the battle front, among the civilian victims of war and here at home. Just one contribution this year helps all of these. Make it big. Make it now.

One Job Well Done Begets Another

THERE'S no satisfaction in all the world like the feeling of having done a job well—of being able to see the results of your work. This is one thing that all producers of useful things have in common.

And those of us whose job is production—whether of goods on farms and in factories, or of services in stores and banks and utilities—can best see the results of our work in the high standard of living which we have helped to create in America. For this standard is built on our ability to produce more per person than any other nation on earth. And the people of every country, who are looking hopefully to us for food and weapons, can count on America because it has this great productive might.

After the war is over? Many people are talking about a richer life for all of us then. And they're right! For that richer life will be brought about, not by promises, but by hard work on the part of America's producers. And they—those who grow and make and do things—can do this post-war job better if they work together and understand each other. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
