Our Men in Service

man and Morrow county rancher, and now wearing a uniform of Uncle Sam, is spending a short leave in Heppner. Bill is a "Sea Bee", having joined the corps during the past summer.

BEANS FOR BREAKFAST

There is no reason why beans should not be just as good for breakfast as for any other meal. but to a lad breaking away from home customs it seems odd at first. Billy French, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. French of Heppner thinks maybe beans for breakfast once a week might not be so bad but when they have a follow up for dinner and supper it is kind of rubbing it in. However, he says the food tastes better since he has gotten out of detention, and now that he has made the acquaintance of some of the fellows he is beginning to like navy life. The main thing bothering the boys is having to stand in line and wait. Ship's service at Camp Bennion offers candy, ice cream, milk shakes and other things for the boys to spend their spare change, and they can also buy gifts there.

GILLIAM-DRAKE PARTY OFF ON BIG ELK HUNT

With a generous load of camp equipment and food, Len and Earl Gilliam and Ray Drake set out for the John Day country where they will spend 10 days or so hunting elk. Their destination was not disclosed further than that it is their annual retreat and they always have a real vacation.

A friend of the three men maintains equipment for handling elk carcasses and all the hunters have to do is bag the game—that is, all except dressing the animals after the friend gets them into camp.

Donald Moe was hurt on the play ground at school Tuesday, suffering cuts and bruises which demanded the attention of a physician.

OSC Historical Briefs

First professor of engineering was G. A. Covell, and first professor of economics was Miss Margaret Snell, both appointed in 1889, the same year that the present administration building, a gift of Benton county, was completed.

At the end of 25, 50, and 75 years the following figures indicated growth: Total staff including teaching, research and extension, federal and state, 16, 160 and 700; attendance of regular students, 184, 1668, and 4743; books in library, 1954, 36,478 and 193,479.

The year 1907 was notable for the appointment of William Jasper Kerr as sixth president, the completion of Waldo Hall, and the appointment of Captain U. G. McAlexander, later to become the "Rock of the Marne," as commandant.
