New Books Received At Public Library

Three new arrivals have made their appearance on the Woolgrowers' auxiliary shelf in the Heppner Public library. They are: Admiral of the Ocean Sea, by Morrison; Just and the Unjust, by Cozzens, and Headhunting in the Solomon Islands, by Mytinger. The latter is a very interesting tale of the trip two women made through the Solomon Islands, and not a bit gruesome, as the title might lead one to believe. A fine description of the islands and their inhabitants is given.

Three other new books just received by the library are: Evidence of Things Seen, by Daly, a mystery story; Men in Motion, by Taylor, a story of the African campaign, and Thunderhead, by O'Hara author of My Friend Flicka, and a very popular juvenile book.

SIGN REPAIRED

A representative from the Neon Sign company of Portland visited Heppner the first of the week and restored the Humphreys Drug company sign to service.

From a transport in New Guinea American members of hospital units are carrying medicine and instruments provided by War Bond dollars.

How many will they succor? How many dead will they find? How many will never return? We do not know but we do know our daily conduct can make an earlier end of the war.
