Only 1 in 1000 would know!

THIS ISN'T A PUZZLE, it's a fact. If you were to ask 1000 people to answer this question about their households, probably not more than one of them would know the answer. It's something most everyone just takes for granted.

Here's the question: "What's the smallest item and BIGGEST bargain in most family budgets?"

And here's the answer in one word: "Electricity".

Look at the last item in these recent cost-of-living figures from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (reprinted at right). Considering how many household jobs electricity does daily, that's a rather startling statistic.

Then remember that electricity is still sold at low pre-war prices—remember that the average U.S. family gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago—and you'll realize there's no bigger bargain today!
