

Ione Ships 3 Tons Of Discarded Paper

By MRS. OMAR RIETMANN

Three tons of scrap paper, collected by the Boy Scouts of Ione were taken by truck to Hermiston Monday, where a carload of paper gathered by the Boy Scouts of this section of Oregon was shipped to Portland.

The ladies of the Gooseberry Lutheran church presented a very interesting program Sunday when the missionary society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson. A large attendance was reported. Mrs. Mary Swanson, Mrs. Johan Troedson, Mrs. Henry Clark, Mrs. Ernest Lundell and Mrs. Cleo Drake of Ione attended.

Mrs. Lana Padberg received word recently of the arrival of her grandson Pvt Robert Cason in southern England. Robert is with the engineers tire lighting platoon.

Mrs. Clyde Nichols of Sumner, Wash. is visiting her brother C. W. Swanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Padberg became the parents of a 7½ pound boy on Friday April 28 at the St. Anthony hospital in Pendleton. They have named their new son Marvin Robert.

The Junior-Senior banquet and prom were held at the school house Friday evening April 28. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated with lilacs and daffodils against a background of purple and gold streamers. After a delicious banquet prepared by the ladies of the Ione P.T.A. the Blue Notes of Arington provided music for the prom.

Mrs. Mary Swanson was hostess at her home for the P. N. G. club Friday afternoon of last week.

The weekly ball game between the Hi boys and the Oldsters ended in a victory for the older men 9 to 6. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holiker and Mrs. John Bryson left Monday for Los Angeles where they will visit several days with former Ione residents. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Norton Lundell, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bartlemay spent Friday with Mrs. Bartlemay's parents Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morgan Sr. The Bartlemays operate a restaurant at Meacham Ore.

Little Margery Bristow, daughter of Mrs. No'a Bristow, has been quite ill with chickenpox, running a high temperature Saturday and Sunday. She is reported improving now.

Col. S. P. Arnold, veteran of World War I was an Ione visitor

Sunday. Col. Arnold is general manager of the "Oregon Guiding Eye" of Tillamook, a training school for Seeing Eye dogs. The purpose of Col. Arnold's visit was to interest individuals and organizations in lending their support to this school which will provide for the need of these dogs after World War II.

A Call to Prayer . . .

We know that the hour of invasion draws near. Let us prepare ourselves for it by using our churches as sanctuaries of private prayer on week days as well as public worship on Sundays. As we go to and from work, as we go to and from shopping, as we go to and from calling on friends, or conducting business, let us enter our churches as we pass and be silent before God.

In a place which has been dedicated to His worship and in which He has set His name our very hearts will be quieted and refreshed.

Then let us ask no favors. Let us thank and adore our Father in Heaven that He is sufficient for all our needs and all the needs of our loved ones in the service; that living or dying, working or fighting, well or sick, grieved or happy, He is sufficient at all times.

This action by us will not only build up faith in our hearts and of boys and girls in service, but will actually bless and sanctify our churches themselves into towers of strength and springs of blessing in the land we love.

MRS. GEORGE A. CORWIN,
President, Heppner Union Missionary Society.

MISS SIMS IN LINE FOR AARON FRANK FUND

Miss Marjorie Sims, member of the 1944 graduating class at Heppner high school, has a chance to obtain the $1000 scholarship fund created by Aaron Frank, Portland philanthropist, for worthy students to assist them in attaining a college education. Marjorie's name was submitted by the faculty of the high school and when ratings were completed by the fund board it was found that she was one of 14 in the state in the finals.

Scholarship, character and possibility of rendering service to society are principal factors in selecting students to participate in the fund, which is available for any accredited institution of higher learning in Oregon.

Piano Recital is Artistic Triumph

Pupils of Mrs. J. O. Turner in piano recital Saturday evening registered new highs in artistic performance and left an audience of some 40 patrons of music wondering why we of smaller communities continue to look to other larger places for entertainment of such high order.

The young people from the tiniest tot to the older, experienced pupils displayed serious study and a manifest desire to attain a greater degree of skill in their art.

Some of the older pupils have graduated from the recital stage to that of concert performers and their numbers were especially delightful.

The program was a testimonial to the splendid work Mrs. Turner has been carrying on for many years.

Heppner Netters Take Pendleton 4-1

Heppner high school tennis players took the long end of the score against Pendleton here Saturday, grabbing four of the five matches. It was the first match of the season played on the local court and the Heppner netters were in good form.

Herbert Schunk started the ball rolling by taking the boys' singles. Marjorie Sims and Loma Jones captured the girls' doubles play; Bill Ulrich and Walter Skuzeski took the boys' doubles, and Dorothy Warden and Ted Ferguson wound up the series by taking the mixed doubles.

Heppner has three matches to play off, two with Hermiston and a return match with Pendleton there.
