MRS. GEORGE C. MARSHALL FOUNDS THE GRANDMOTHERS LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C.: General George C. Marshall's wife founded the Grandmothers League as a roll of honor for grandmothers who buy War Bonds for their grandchildren.

Mrs. Marshall herself buys Bonds and stamps regularly for her three grandchildren, Tupper Brown, age 1, Jimmy Winn, 2, and Jimmy's sister Kitty, 9 months.

"Those Bonds fight for America today," Mrs. Marshall said in Washington. "When they mature they will bring to the coming generation the educational and other privileges that make America worth fighting for."

March of Time: UNDERGROUND REPORT

Helping to Safeguard the Army's Health

Technician Fifth Grade Sylva J. Welch (left) and Private First Class Martha W. Smith, both members of the Women's Army Corps, inoculate a guinea pig for a tuberculosis test in the bacteriological laboratory of the Station Hospital at Camp Edwards, Massachusetts. Both worked as laboratory technicians in civilian life.

One-Time Resident Passes on in East

Mrs. Rose Howell received information this week relative to the passing of C. C. Pence, 80, at his home at Braddock, Pa. Mr. Pence died in April. He was Mrs. Howell's cousin and made his home in this section many years ago when cow-punchers and buckeroos rode the unfenced range and Heppner was the center of a great cattle and sheep industry. He rode with such veterans as Newt and Ed Jones, Price Florence, Art Minor and other buckaroo greats of earlier days. In later years he became a telegraph operator and forsook the life on the range for the more orderly and sedate life of eastern centers.

Mrs. Pence followed her husband in death about a week after his passing, the letter to Mrs. Howell stated.

ON VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald G. Acklen and children, Ruthann and Linda Jo, arrived the fore part of the week from Grants Pass, being met in Portland by Mrs. Acklen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dinges of Lexington. Acklen, former teacher at Lexington, now is principal of one of the Grants Pass schools. A visitor in Heppner Tuesday he reported that Ruthann recently won a radio contest over station KUIN, Grants Pass, which entitles her to enter the finals with a war bond as first prize. The little eight-year-old miss took the finals, singing "Alice Blue Gown."
