

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by Mark T. Buchanan

Acting Chairman, Division of Farm Management and Agricultural Economics
State College of Washington, Pullman, Washington

DURING the early stages of an inflationary period a farmer should talk like a pessimist and act like an optimist. He should guard himself by means of credit and take advantage of the rising price situation.

During the latter part of an inflationary period he should talk like an optimist and act like a pessimist. He should liquidate his debt and put as many inflationary dollars as possible into a fixed investment. No fixed investment is more satisfactory for this purpose than War Bonds of the United States.

In addition to laying aside present easily obtained money to use when its purchasing power has increased, there are several other reasons why farmers should buy War Bonds.

• Reserve for Needed Replacements and Improvements. Every farmer knows that his machinery and equipment gradually wear out and become obsolete. During this time when new machinery and equipment is difficult to obtain, he should lay aside funds with which to replace this equipment when it becomes more readily available following the war.

• Prevent Inflation. This war is costing twice as much per year as the total cost of World War I. To the extent that the Government can borrow this required money from individuals out of savings or funds that otherwise would be available for living, inflation will be averted. That is why the Government is much more interested in selling Bonds to individuals than in selling them to banks.

• Protection. This country and the war effort have been blessed with six successive years of phenomenal crop yields and agricultural production. If a penny is tossed six times and comes up heads every time, the probability of the seventh toss is still 50-50, heads and tails. Although the succession of good crop years does not necessarily portend crop failure to come, nevertheless crop failure is always something that should be considered possible. Money invested in War Bonds will provide protection for living expenses and capital during the difficult years.

• Safe Investment. As a rule the paying off of the "mortgage" is a farmer's best investment. During the war years, however, many farmers have accomplished this, and are now seeking a safe investment for extra cash. No investment is safer than the Bonds of our Government. Not only is this investment a safe one, but the returns are attractive. Series E Bonds held for 10 years return interest of 2.9 per cent, compounded annually—in 10 years $4.00 for each $3.00 put in.

• Patriotic Motive. Not to be forgotten is the fact that this war must be won. Farmers have more sons and daughters in the service per family than any other group of our population. We must provide them with the planes, tanks, guns, ships, and other materials necessary to speed their return home.

ON INSPECTION TOUR

Col. E. O. Schroeder of the army air corps is on an inspection tour at present, according to information received by Mrs. Frank Rumble from Mrs. Schroeder. At the Colonel's request, Mrs. Schroeder and their daughter were permitted to make the tour with him. They flew from San Francisco to Los Angeles where one day was spent and then to New Orleans for a day or two. Mrs. Schroeder wrote from there expressing disappointment that the time was so short to see such a beautiful city. They were to spend 10 days in Washington after which they expected to go to Cincinnati where they will establish residence indefinitely.

RETURNS TO BASE

Sgt. Edward Hunt returned to his camp in California Monday after spending a 30-day special furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hunt of Lexington. Edward was granted time off because of the serious illness of his mother. He is an overseas veteran, having put in about 15 months in Iran, a more or less arid region comparable in climate and topography to northern Mexico. He was glad to get back to the U. S. A. where there are green forests and pastures.

NAVY LIFE OK

"This navy life is OK despite what you'll hear," writes Jim Barratt from Farragut. "The food is a lot better than I thought it would be. I was appointed athletic director for my company of 120 men so I'm kept plenty busy. O'Brien, Lovgren and Skuzeski are still with me, so I don't think we'll get too homesick."—That's the old spirit, Jim. It's the busy guy who really gets things done.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

I am deeply grateful to the American Red Cross for assistance given me and my parents while my mother has been so ill and also to the people of Morrow county whose contributions made that assistance possible.

Sgt Ed Hunt

HE'S OFF ON HIS FIFTY-FIFTH MISSION

There he goes again—out to pour more destruction on the Axis—once more to face the death of enemy fighters and flak!

He won't hesitate to go out on his fifty-sixth or his hundred and fifty-sixth mission. He knows he might not come back, but he keeps on going—giving more and more until the Hitler and Tojo crews are ready to "call it quits."

This is only your fifth mission—and a mission which is mighty easy in comparison with the ones he makes every week.

Stay in the fight by welcoming the Victory Volunteers—at least double your Bond purchases and then keep on. Your buying means "bombs away" for the Axis!
