We're Not Foolin'

Paper is scarce! And it's growing scarcer every day. Pulp in sufficient quantities to permit manufacture of packaging materials—paper sacks and cartons—is no longer available and production of these commodities is dependent on salvaged paper. . . We not only ask but urge your cooperation in relieving this shortage of vital material. Do not burn or otherwise destroy paper cartons, egg packages or other packaging material. Bring them to the store for re-use . . . Please do not insist on sacks or wrapping paper for goods already packaged. These are suggestions we hope you will be able to act upon and help us and the nation through a trying period
