Live butts and the woods don't mix

YOU don't toss burning cigarettes around a powder plant.

But enough smokers toss burning cigarettes around forests to start 20,000 forest fires a year, more than a quarter of the total.

In years of average fire loss, smokers cause a national loss of more than $10,000,000 in our forests.

Few people realize how explosive a dry forest is in fire season . . . how, in a twinkling, a lone spark may be fanned into a roaring conflagration, destroying in a few hours what nature, aided by man, has taken years to produce.

A cigarette in a forest is a spark in a powder plant.

Thad Phibbs' Formula for Fun

Thad Phibbs has a theory of enjoyment all his own. The more tired he is from working at the War Plant, the more fun he has pitching horseshoes with the boys these summer evenings.

"That's because I feel that I deserve it," Thad says simply.

And I wonder if he isn't right. I wonder if we don't enjoy things in proportion as we know we've earned them. Is a little relaxation ever more welcome than after a hard day's work? Do we appreciate our little pleasures quite as much as when we know in our hearts we've done a good job well?

From where I sit, that's one of the things this wartime strain has taught us. We're all of us working hard at our jobs, doing our level best to pull our weight. And we're learning the little rewards, the simple pleasures—a home-cooked meal, a glass of beer with friends—are more welcome now than ever... because we've earned them!
