FRESHMEN SURVIVE TORTURE

A large, although not so green, class of freshmen started their first and likely most eventful year of high school the 11th of September. Throughout the second week they provided entertainment for the student body by doing stunts which the sophomore class instructed them to do. Also as previously done, they dressed in odd fashions each day.

Friday afternoon the class rush between the sophomores and freshmen was held at the Rodeo grounds. This proved to be a very exciting afternoon and ended in favor of the second year class although the first year students were victorious in the skit. The list of events and their winners is as follows:

Skit, freshmen; girls' 50-yard dash, sophomores; boys' 100 yard dash, sophomores; football throw, freshmen; girls' ball throw, freshmen; boys' ball throw, sophomores; girls nail driving, sophomores; 3-legged race, and relay race sophomores.

Friday evening they were paraded down Main street and the sound of paddles manned by sophomore hands was heard as they were driven to the gym where they received some of the most unusual

RALLY SHOWS ENTHUSIASM

It is a custom for the high school to have a rally the night before a ball game. Last Thursday night at 7:20 the students serpentine from the old Post Office and on up the street. At intersections they circled around the Yell Duke where they gave several yells.

Going out to the Rodeo grounds, we found the student body around a huge bonfire, where the queen and duke led yells and the football boys gave speeches.

The band played the school song and the "Victory" march. By this time the fire had burned low and the rally was over.

LARGE CROWD AT DANCE

The first dance of the season was held Friday evening in the music room. It was sponsored by the junior class and was attended by a crowd made up partly of Arlington students remaining after the game, and alumni. The room was decorated attractively in green and white crepe paper and records were changed by Supt. George Corwin.

DR HAWK ADDRESSES SCHOOL

A very interesting and amusing speech was presented to the student body Monday afternoon by Dr. Ray Hawk, former professor of Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney. He was in Heppner for the purpose of meeting with the principals of schools in the county to discuss ways of improving the school, its systems, etc. His talk consisted mostly of why he chose education as his life work and the necessity of education for winning the peace after victory on all war fronts is complete. Some of the speech will remain in the students' minds for a while at least, even though it might be just the jokes.

BURNS HAND SEVERELY

Mrs. Frank Engkraf suffered a serious burn to her right hand Wednesday morning while working with honey. She was "rendering" honey when it broke into flame, threatening the house. In an effort to prevent the house from catching fire she seized the blazing honey and threw it from the house, thereby sustaining a bad burn.

the game, Heppner, after recovering the kick-off, opened up with a flurry of passes in an attempt to score, but lost the ball in midfield after a fourth down pass had gained 20 yards.

Neither team was able to gain the upper hand to any degree offensively throughout the game. Heppner outshaded the Arlington boys in total yardage gained, but as the score indicates, they still pay off in touchdowns.

Heppner's only real opportunity to score came shortly after the opening kick-off. Arlington received and returned the ball to their own 30. On the second play Arlington fumbled and Heppner recovered. The Mustangs worked the ball down to the Honkers' 15 yard line, but here the river boys stiffened their defense and Heppner relinquished the ball on downs.

As is usual in the early part of the season there was raggedness in play displayed by both teams, but as the season progresses these rough edges should be gradually smoothed off. The local boys will meet some tough opposition this coming Saturday, Oct. 7, when they journey to Pendleton to play the Pendleton Buckaroos.
