Sixth War Loan Campaign Set to Start November 20

Fourteen Billion To Be Raised for War Prosecution

Local war loan officials have received preliminary information relative to the sixth war loan drive which is scheduled to open Nov. 20 and continue to Dec. 16. Nothing aside from the date and the amount has arrived yet and so far no steps have been taken to organize for the campaign and probably nothing will be done until the general election is out of the way.

The treasury is asking for a total of $14,000,000,000 of which individuals will be asked to take up $5,000,000,000 worth of the bonds. As in previous drives, purchases of E, F and G bonds on a monthly basis will be credited on the main issue.

It is too early to state or estimate what Morrow county's share or that of the state will be. These figures will be forthcoming soon and upon their arrival the local group will set up the machinery for putting the drive over.

According to B. C. Pinckney, who has been in constant touch with the war financing program, purchases of bonds are going along steadily although no concerted effort is being made to reach monthly quotas. It is his opinion that the people have become war loan conscious and have set up their own bond buying schedule.

NEW GUINEA TOUGH SPOT SAYS SOUTH PACIFIC VET

New Guinea is a tough spot for men soldiers and certainly is no bed of roses for women in the armed services. That was the purport of a talk by T. Sgt. Richard Hayes before the chamber of commerce luncheon forum Monday. "To my mind, it is just no place for women," Hayes said. "It is hot, it is dirty, it is rough—too rough more ways than one for women, and speaking for myself and many of the boys with whom I have talked it is the general opinion that they should remain on the continent and release men to take the rough outpost duty."

Much of the young soldier's talk was in answer to questions put by his listeners.

G O P WORKERS HERE

Miss Jeannette Calkins and Miss Dorothy Collier, representing the women's branch of the republican state central committee, were in Heppner a few hours today en route to The Dalles from north-eastern Oregon points. They reported prospects for a republican victory increasing in the territory visited and looked for Oregon to be counted in the Dewey column Nov. 8. The G-T enjoyed a pleasant visit with the ladies this afternoon.

BAUMAN HUNTING

Determined to get a buck if he has to use up all of his leave, Chief Petty Officer C. J. D. Bauman, sheriff to you, is in the Blue mountains trying to corral one of the wily animals in short order so that he may have more time in town to visit with friends. He arrived last week accompanied by Mrs. Bauman and they are guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cantwell. Incidentally, Bauman is candidate for sheriff to succeed himself.

SCHOOL GIVES FLOOR LAMPS

The student body of the Ione high school recently purchased two floor lamps as a gift to McCaw General hospital, according to Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Morrow county camp and hospital chairman.

Bulldogs Plunge Way to 13-6 Win Over Mustang Herd

"Too big and too many" was the case against Heppner high school's Mustangs last Friday afternoon as they lost, 13 to 6, their battle with the Hermiston high school Bulldogs on the latter's home field.

Outweighed ten to 15 pounds to the man and continuously faced with fresh reserves from Hermiston's well lined bench, the Heppner squad fought bitterly and gamely to hold the powerful Hermiston team to a one touchdown margin of victory.

Coach Leonard Pate's boys fought a dogged defensive fight almost entirely through out the game. Combining a deadly aerial attack with powerful running plays, Hermiston drove, plunged and passed their way up and down the field, but could only manage to reach paydirt twice. Both Hermiston resulted from passes. One came just at the close of the second quarter, and the other shortly after the start of the second half. Heppner's line stubbornly held the Hermiston runners to fairly short gains, but the Mustangs seemed unable to cope with the Hermiston passes.

Heppner's touchdown was scored in the opening minutes of the game after they recovered a Hermiston fumble on the Bulldog's 30 yard stripe. Without losing possession of the ball, Heppner marched down to score with Edmondson punching over from the one yard line.

Arlington to seek revenge for an earlier defeat this season at the Arlington Honkers.

What Would Logie Have Done if the House Were Locked?

Everybody knows by this time that J. Logie Richardson had a good night's rest in a preacher's bed Friday night, but the question arises, what would he have done if the house had been locked?

Well, it was a good story and something to put a little spice into the former Heppner abstracter's hunting trip. It embodied, also, a little negligence on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas in not notifying Logie about their change of residence—just one of those little things people are apt to overlook these busy days.

Oh yes, the story. It seems Richardson was unaware the Lucas's had moved and he went to their former residence, now the parsonage of the Church of Christ and occupied by the O. Wendell Herbison family. There was no one at home and thinking the hosts were just out for the evening, Richardson signed himself in, so to speak, and went to bed. Upon arising next morning he found he was the only occupant of the house. Having an appointment with Phil Mahoney to go hunting, he started down Gale street and after going one block discovered the Lucas Place sign in front of another house.

THEY CAME FOR HUNTING . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Walter LaDusire of Eugene are guests of relatives while in the county hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Borg of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. George and son Kit of Condon were week-end visitors in Heppner.

Dr. and Mrs. George E. E. Henton of Portland have been guests this week of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo. The men have been trying their aim on birds and bucks.

Two former Heppnerites, W. V. Crawford and J. Logie Richardson, were week-end guests from Portland trying their luck for birds.

VISITING HERE

Mark Merrill of Portland is spending a few days in town visiting friends.

Forest Service Finishes Seeding Burned Over Area

1000 Acres on John Day Slope Given Chance to Renew

Culminating one of the most successful seasons of recent years, the Heppner division of the Umatilla national forest last week finished seeding 1,000 acres of burned over land on the John Day slope of the reserve south of Heppner. The ground seeded represented the biggest fire threat of the year in the local area.

Ranger Fred Wehmeyer and a crew of four men including Ellis B. Carlson, Glen Jorgenson, Bert Eblekman and Max Buschke from the forest service, and six ranchers from Monument, scattered 3,000 pounds of mixed seed over the land so there will be a grazing crop in 1945. The seed was mixed in two lots to suit needs of the terrain, using wheat grasses and fescues on dry sites and Kentucky bluegrass, timothy, orchard grass, tall meadow grass and some sweet clover on the north slopes where moisture is more prevalent.

The service is also seeding skidded areas in the cutting of the Heppner Lumber company, using approximately the same mixtures as those used on the burned over section.

According to Wehmeyer, his district was visited by only 14 fires during the season and but one of these was man-made. A hunter's carelessness started a small fire on Matteson butte.

Glen Parsons and Max Buschke are now engaged in cruising 170,000 acres south of Heppner, most of it in Morrow county. This cruise is being made in preparation for an exchange of timber between Kinzua Pine Mills company and the forest service. The company owns a large body of land in the Wallowa forest which will be exchanged for the Morrow county timber land as soon as the basis is determined. The cruisers are taking from 10 to 20 test lots as to volume, class, grade to get a complete picture of the yellow pine stand.

Rebekah Convention Scheduled Friday

Sans Souci Rebekah lodge of Heppner will entertain the other sister lodges in this district in convention Friday. A business meeting and demonstrations of the various phases of lodge work will be the order of the day. In the evening a banquet will be served at I. O. O. F. hall at 6:30 followed by an interesting program.

TWO TAKEN ILL

Mrs. Anna Smith Webster of Portland suffered a slight stroke while visiting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hughes Monday. Shortly after Mrs. Webster became ill Mrs. Hughes fainted but was sufficiently recovered by the next afternoon to be up and about. Mrs. Webster was improving at last reports and sat up for a short time today.

THAT MILEAGE RECORD!

Don't forget to bring in your mileage record when applying for gas and tires. You will save yourself and the rationing office force a lot of trouble by not leaving the record at home.

LEAVE FOR EAST

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark left Pendleton Friday evening for Arlington, Va. for an extended visit at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Com. and Mrs. Gordon Ridings and their little daughter, Ann Clark Ridings. The trip was made as far as Chicago by the Streamliner.

Hunting Accident Results in Loss of Local Man's Hand

W. Claude Cox, Heppner creameryman, is resting easy following a hunting accident Saturday which cost him the major portion of one hand.

In company with Blaine Isom, Fred Struve and Lt. George Holden, Cox had gone up Balm fork for some bird shooting. It is related that he fell and the shotgun upon striking the ground exploded. His hand was badly torn and when brought to town his physician found it necessary to cut away much of the member. It was the same hand injured about three years ago when Cox was working about the machinery in the creamery. Several fingers were amputated at that time.

The victim suffered severe shock but is recovering from that phase. The condition of the hand is being watched closely and family and physician are hoping to avoid further complications.

Good Homes Theme Of P-TA Program

Good homes was the subject of a panel discussion conducted by K. A. House at the meeting of the Heppner Parent-Teacher association held in the music room of the high school Wednesday evening of last week.

Democratic home; Mrs. Joe Hughes Mrs. Tom Wells spoke on a deon "The Home Builds Philosophy of Life"; Mrs. Merle Miller, "Home as a Spiritual and Cultural Center," and Mr. House on "Recreation in the Home." Following the topics the audience joined in a general discussion of the home.

Mrs. Harry Van Horn and Miss Mildred Hajenga presided at the tea table which was decorated with fall flowers. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. Marie Clary and Mrs. Harold Evans.

Another feature of the meeting was a table display of work done by the third grade so far this year. Scrap books, penmanship, art and other samples of their work were included in the exhibit.

GILES FRENCH VISITS

Rep. Giles French of Moro was in the county Friday interviewing the voters and feeling out his strength in this end of the 22nd district. French is the republican candidate and is opposed by Mrs. Minnie McFarland of Boardman, democratic nominee. Henry Peterson has the advantage of the other two—he has the endorsement of both parties. This office acknowledges a pleasant call from French who is the publisher of the Sherman County Journal, as well as war bond director and all round Sherman county booster.

ON HUNTING TRIP

Charles Kelley and son Charles Jr. of Portland are guests this week at the Dan Bishop home on lower Rhea creek. They came up for some bird shooting which has been fair. Mrs. Bishop is accompanying them back to Portland Sunday for a short visit in the Kelley home.

LEAVES FOR NEW HOME

Lawrence Redding left Tuesday for Carson Wash., where he has purchased a home. Redding disposed of his farm property and equipment last spring and has been employed at the Heppner Lumber company for several months.

CHANGE IN TIME FOR CHORUS

Rehearsal of the Women's Choral club will begin at 7:30 next Monday evening. Please be on time.

RECOVERING

Mrs. Walter Becket of Eight Mile is recovering from a major operation performed at Pendleton Oct. 9.

Political Interest Due to Increase With Morse Visit

Aspirant for U. S. Senatorship Billed To Speak Saturday

Political interest locally is due for an upsurge this week-end when Wayne Morse, republican nominee for United States senator, will open the campaign with an address at the Masonic temple. Morse is scheduled to speak at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

The republican aspirant has been making a swing around the state and reports coming in show him in strong favor wherever he has spoken. On the occasion of his previous visit to Heppner during the primary campaign he had no opportunity to deliver an address but those who met him recognized his clean cut personality and evident ability to fill the office to which he aspires.

A luncheon at the Lucas Place is being arranged whereby Morse may meet some of the war horses and get a slant on the local situation prior to the general meeting. Plates must be reserved for the luncheon due to the limited number that can be served.

Aside from listening to the battle of the air between rival candidates for president and vice president, little of interest has been manifested in the election to date. It is expected that Morse's discussion of the issues will inject some life into the campaign and that from here on out the partisan spirit will be rife hereabouts.

CHIEF MUSICIAN LEO PERRY HOME ON 30-DAY LEAVE

Leo Perry, chief musician, is visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gilliam. At the conclusion of his visit here he and Mrs. Perry will go to Washington where Leo will enter the naval school of music to complete his bandmaster training.

Perry was a member of the carrier Wasp when it sank off the New Hebrides. He had made numerous trips to Malta when the Wasp was helping run supplies to the besieged island.

A member of the navy for almost 20 years, Perry will leave the service at the expiration of his present hitch in December. Being an excellent musician he probably will make that an avocation.

AMERICA LEGION SHOPS IN NEED OF ARTICLES

Gift shops maintained by the American Legion of Oregon for a number of years are in need of articles, this newspaper is informed. The local unit is asking that people wishing to donate gifts leave them either at the legion hall or at Humphrys Drug company between this date and Nov. 15. Gifts may be stationery, cosmetics, costume jewelry and similar articles.

Shops were established to provide gifts for the men confined in the Portland and Roseburg veteran hospitals. The patients may select articles from these stocks to send to their families at Christmas time.

ON BUSINESS TRIP

Tress McClintock drove to Portland Wednesday on a business trip, going in search of materials for his shop. He was accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Rosewall and Mrs. Adelle Hayes and children.

CALLED TO SOUTH DAKOTA

The O. Wendell Herbison family left Friday for Gettysburg, S. D., where they were called by the death of Mr. Herbison's father. They went to Sisters where they met Wendell's brother and drove from there.
