STUDENT BODY MEETING

The second student body meeting was held last Thursday. During the course of the meeting a motion was passed that the school purchase some stationery and have it inscribed at the Gazette Times office for students wishing to buy it for personal use. The inscription would pertain to something about Heppner High school, Mustangs, etc. Any profits off these sales would go into the student body funds.

Again the argument over whether the H-club or the student body should take the money made from the games and pay the expenses, arose. This subject was discussed in the first meeting although nothing definite was settled. In the previous meeting a speaker from both sides gave his views and reasons why his side should get it and then a vote was held. It was decided that the student body take the funds direct and the H-club would control the advertising and such and present their bills to the student body.

In student council it was moved and passed that the Sophomore class give the first assembly on Friday, Oct. 27. Also people taking cars carrying players to ball games will receive four cents a mile.

PICTURES TAKEN

Monday of last week was indeed a day of hasty preparation. Every year this one day is looked forward to, but when it arrives students can be heard uttering such words as, "Why wasn't my mother built along the same lines as Hedy Lamarr." or "Is my hair on straight? Yes, all of this was heard as the students were having their pictures taken for the annual by Mr. Olmstead of the Elite studio of The Dalles.

Group pictures were taken with different back grounds this year, therefore lending a little variety when looking through the annual. The day of shooting ended with the camera still in tact and the students eagerly looking forward to the day when they can gaze upon the finished pictures.

SPEAKER LECTURES TO CLASS

Thursday's senior social economics class was honored to have Judge Bert Johnson present to give them a talk fundamentally based on "How to Get a Job and Keep it."

He reminded them that jobs at the present time are much easier to get and hold, but these times will not last.

He stressed many points. He thought honesty should be practiced at all times to prove to yourself and everyone that you are honest.

If you are intelligent, willing to really work, you are deserving of a good job. Although you may be good you must pull together with your fellow men, in other words, team work.

He asked the seniors, "Do you attend to duties or are you disorganized?" This will be another question you must ask yourself. "Are you obedient?" "Are you neat and clean in appearance and work?" These are all important questions that determine whether you get a job or not.

Some of the dos and don'ts after you have a job are: Don't ask your employer what your salary will be, the first thing. Don't be a clock-

BAKER RESTING UP

If you are one of the many people who find it hard to get along without Heppner-made bread you will not find the going easy for the next two weeks—or maybe longer. G. A. Sanders, proprietor of the Heppner bakery, is taking an enforced rest and finds it necessary to dispense with bread baking for at least two weeks. He will try to supply his patrons with pastries, etc., but may have to abandon that branch of the business if his condition does not improve. The wartime grind is taking its toll and Sanders is heeding his doctor's orders by taking a rest.

CRAWFORD BOYS RETURN TO CALIFORNIA POINTS

A card from Mrs. Lera Crawford this week states that her sons John and Hugh are both in California awaiting orders for sea duty. John has been visiting his mother at Berkeley while Hugh is stationed at San Diego where he is taking some special training.

Mrs. Crawford's third son, Calvin, is still in the north with the Seabees.

Do suggest things to your employer that might improve the business or save time, etc. but don't state definitely that you are going to do something.

Judge Johnson named over many community jobs that we could help in during summer and after school and even more permanent jobs. He gave the right and wrong ways to approach your prospective employer.

The class then held open discussion on this subject, giving their opinions and asking Judge Johnson questions.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

As American as Huckleberry Finn

About the best-read books in our town are the works of Mark Twain—who wrote Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn and all those other lovable, undying stories.

And I think it's because he's the most American of all our writers. He understood his fellow men—and loved them as he loved all humanity.

You may remember what he said of Tolerance and Freedom—those principles so basic to our way of life. Mark Twain believed in them, of course. He fought for them. But he cautioned: "Never let tolerance become indifference, never let freedom become license."

From where I sit, that's timely wisdom for a troubled world—whether it applies to international politics, or to a man's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer occasionally.

For tolerance—respect for the other fellow's rights—is important not just in the big things, but in the little human everyday things, too.
