LEGION AND AUXILIARY PLAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

"Won't you give a gift for the Yanks who gave for you?" This is the slogan of the American Legion and auxiliary in planning the world's largest Christmas party for the hospitalized service men and women.

Gifts purchased in this community will be sent as near home as possible says Mrs. Chris Brown, president of the local auxiliary.

A window in the Turner and Van Marter office has been reserved for the gifts and La Verne Van Marter will receive them. Donors are asked not to wrap gifts but to leave their names on if desired. Suggested articles include books stationery, toilet articles and soap, leather goods, —but NO razor blades. The gifts must be in the window by Dec. 8, Mrs. Brown states.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Orlis Padberg of Lexington and Mrs. Archie Padberg of Heppner drove to Walla Walla Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Padberg's aunt, Mrs. J. A. Lieuallen, who passed away Sunday after a lingering illness. Deceased was a sister-in-law of Mrs. John Padberg of Heppner. She is survived by the husband and a son, Earl Lieuallen, and several brothers and sisters. Vina Owen and J. A. Lieuallen were married in July, 1892 at Lexington. They have made their home in Walla Walla several years.

SERVICE FOLK HOME

Among members of Uncle Sam's fighting forces home this week are Elwayne Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peck of Lexington, who is with an air force ground crew training in Texas; Ellen Nelson, of the marines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nelson of Lexington; Lt. (jg) Louis L. Gilliam, son of Len Gilliam of Heppner; Sgt Charles M. Jones, Camp Chaffee, Ark., accompanied by his bride of recent months, and LaVerne Hams and wife from a California base.

John Parker of the state tax commission was in Heppner Monday making hurried check-up on various income tax reports. He brought his son Jay over from Pendleton to spend a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gorger and children spent a few days in the county the past week, taking advantage of the Thanksgiving holiday. They are enjoying their home in Walla Walla and think the Garden City a fine place to live.
