

New U-O President

Dr. Harry K. Newburn, dean of the college of liberal arts at the University of Iowa, was named president of the University of Oregon by the State Board of Higher Education at their January meeting, it was announced last week.

Dr. Newburn, who will head the state university which has been under the direction of Acting President Orlando John Hollis since the death of President Donald K. Erb in December, 1943, is recognized as one of the most outstanding younger educators in this country. Born in Cuba, Ill. January 1, he has just passed his 39th birthday.

A graduate of Western Illinois Teachers College Macomb, Ill., in 1928, the Oregon president-elect received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Iowa, taking the doctorate in 1933.

Beginning his career with five years service in Illinois schools in 1931 he went to the University of Iowa as part-time principal of the University high school. After receiving his doctorate degree he was made a full time staff member. He was appointed dean of the college of liberal arts in September, 1941.

The newly chosen president is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, national education honoraries, and Kiwanis club.

He was married in June 1928, to Wandalee Brady and they have two children, Jacqueline, 14, and Robert Lee, 12.

Dean Newburn visited the Oregon campus several week ago and made many friends among members of the faculty, who were impressed with his personality as well as his educational record and ideas.

You Will Be Able to Get All the Good Foods You Need

Stricter rationing does not mean that foods will be scarce. It is necessary to limit some products in order that all may get a fair share. There may not always be a plentiful supply of some things we are accustomed to in terms of plenty, but where a scarcity may develop in these items there will be other foods to take their place.

Let us remember the man in the foxhole—maybe he doesn't like what he's getting, but he has no choice.

Use your points wisely and you will not even suffer inconvenience. We are here to help you with the best foods your points will buy.
