HEARS FROM HUSBAND

Mrs. Emery Coxen received a letter the first of the week from her husband, one of the Marines helping to liquidate the Japs on Iwo Jima. The letter was written in a foxhole—more fittingly called a hell hole—and the writer admitted a couple of close calls, "but who hasn't," sez he. He did not expect to write again until he had returned to the main base and this was the first letter from him since Feb. 6. Bill Padberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin (Buck) Padberg, is a member of the 5th Marines on Iwo Jima. His parents heard from him this week too. He and Emery were inducted and took their basic training together.

STEP BROTHERS ALMOST MEET

Out in the Pacific there is plenty of room for many things to happen—and they are happening hourly—and occasionally something of interest to local people is heard of. Recently Lt (jg) Elwayne Lieualen's ship had to refuel. A ship pulled alongside and on it was Fred Painter, WTS:c. The boys are step-brothers, the former a son of Roy Lieualen, the latter Mrs. Lieualen's son. They could not get together but talked over the ships' phones. They saw each other faintly which is not too much consolation when both were so far away from home. The parents live at Ione.

Mrs. George Engkraf and Mrs. Rose Frates returned to their homes in Yakima and Toppenish, Wash. on Sunday after visiting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Engkraf.

Mrs. Robert Thompson and daughter, Mrs. Luke Bibby made a trip to Portland on Sunday returning on Tuesday. The ladies went to the city seeking medical assistance.

W. L. McCaleb enjoyed a brief visit with his son Omer in Portland Friday or Saturday. Omer came out from Texas on a bomber and had a few hours in Portland.

County Clerk C. W. Barlow drove to Portland Friday to spend a few days with Mrs. Barlow, who is caring for her mother, Mrs. A. S. Akers. He was accompanied by Pvt and Mrs. Robert Walker and W. L. McCaleb.

Mrs. Harry Plumondore returned Friday from Yreka, Calif. where she was called by the serious illness and death of her father, who passed away the day after she arrived there.
