

FAMILY GATHERS IN FOR BIRTHDAY PARTY

Members of the R. E. Alstott family gathered at the R. E. Alstott Jr. home in Hermiston Sunday to observe the elder Alstott's 70th birthday anniversary. Due to one cause and another some of his children could not be present. Of these Mr. and Mrs. Archie Paderg had car trouble on the road and had to return home; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bray were absent due to the illness of their baby but their other three children were present; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lieuallen and daughter, Aloha Painter, were unable to leave their cafe business in Ione for the day. Fredrick Painter and Don Alstott, both in the navy, were other members of the family unable to be present.

Mrs. Otis Alstott had the honor of baking the huge birthday cake which formed the center of interest in a dinner of meats, salads, cakes pies and jello salad and other delicacies.

Despite his 70 years, Mr. Alstott is doing his bit in the war effort. He is foreman of the lumber piling gang at the munitions dump and declares if they would give him some young men he'd show the world a real lumber piling job. Most of his crew run from 50 on up.

TRUCK TICKETS EXPIRE MIDNIGHT SATURDAY

Truck owners are reminded that present tickets expire at midnight Saturday, March 31 and that operators must have the new tickets ready for use the following day.

Due to the fact that the local rationing office ran out of the new tickets by the time S in the alphabet was reached, there may be some delay in delivering the balance of the tickets. An order for more tickets was wired to the regional office in San Francisco Wednesday and it is hoped they will reach here in time to avoid delay.
