PAUL BUNYAN NOW HAS

A Permanent ADDRESS

P PAUL BUNYAN . . . is the legendary chap who did a World's Champion job harvesting whole forests at a single swoop when the country was pushing westward and needed wood to build itself along.

In those days the old fellow figured that the land he cleared would be turned into fields by the farmers who followed his pioneer associates . . . the lumberjacks.

PAUL is still with us, but now he has a different job. He knows that no more farm land is needed so that the forest acres he harvests can be turned back to raising new trees . . . he is now a TREE FARM with a permanent address where he intends to keep on raising one crop after another.

YES . . . Paul Bunyan works in our woods.
