Labor Situation in Fluctuating State In Local Territory

Farm Labor Office Will Help Settle Problems Here

Farm labor in Morrow county is in a state of fluctuation, according to Arnold Ebert, county agricultural agent, who states that an office to handle this type of labor has again been set up in the Heppner hotel building, this time in the lobby of the hotel. R. B. Rice is again in charge of the office and this assures satisfactory arrangements between employer and employee, Ebert says.

Supply and demand have been alternating the past month or two, with the labor supply first plentiful and then short of the need of the farmers. The rule has often been more applications for farm jobs than there have been jobs open. Contributing factors are returning shipyard workers and war veterans and an influx of migratory workers.

The office maintained last year by Mr. Rice rendered valuable assistance to farmers. Through cooperation with farm labor office at Pendleton, Morrow and other surrounding counties were able to the result that loss of crops due to labor shortage was negligible.

"Morrow county farmers are advised to place orders for farm help now in order to fill jobs they expect to have open in the future instead of waiting until the actual need arises," Ebert stated. "A big harvest is in prospect and there will be a big demand for labor this season. The labor supply is tight and farmers should prepare ahead and avoid loss of crops due to labor shortage."

City Council Votes Increased Lighting

The city council voted Monday night to increase the lighting of the town by about 50 percent at an increased cost of about 20 percent. The 600 lumen lamps in the residential districts are to be increased to 1000 lumen lamps with improved reflectors. On Main street between May and Center streets, the central 4000 lumen lamps are to be replaced by two 2500 lumen lamps, one on each side of the street, with eight of these lights to each block; these to have new and improved reflectors.

Morrow County's Share in Hospital Work Revealed in Chairman's Annual Statement

Another year's activities of the Morrow county unit of the Blue Mountain Camp and Hospital council has drawn to a close and a detailed report of money given by citizens of Morrow county and its disposition has been compiled by the president. Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Miss Florence Bergstrom, secretary. This report is too lengthy for reprinting in these columns but a brief resume can be given.

Total Expenses: McCaw $3061.33; Pasco Naval, $352.04; Walla Walla Airbase, $306.84; Veterans Hospital $107.50; dues, $100.00; total, $3927.81. Balance on hand June 1, 1944, $193.55; collected and donations since, $3895.95; total $4,089.50.

Less expenses of $3927.71, balance on hand June 1, 1945, $161.79

To quote Mrs. Thompson, "This report shows the people of Morrow county have completely furnished three wards this year at McCaw. You have answered the requests which have come in at each council meeting for small radios, portable electric phonographs, new records, current magazines and prizes and food for parties. You have been most generous in answering the requests from Walla Walla Airbase hospital, Pasco Naval Air station hospital and day rooms, and the Veterans hospital in Walla Walla.

"These requests will continue to come in at each meeting of the council this coming year. We hope you will feel a good job has been accomplished this year and if you do feel that way, perhaps you will help once more. JOE is still over at McCaw in large numbers and he likes your gifts which make the time pass easier and makes him happier. As chairman of your committee I add my thanks to GI Joe's for all you have done these past two years."

The annual meeting of the Morrow county unit will be held at the Elks club next Saturday afternoon. The business meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Mary Jane Hughes Called By Death

Following the death of her son Hanson by only a few hours, Mrs. Mary Jane Walker Hughes passed on Friday morning at her home in Heppner at the age of 86 years and 14 days.

Services were held at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday, with Rev. Bennie Howe officiating and Phelps Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Interment was in the family plot in the Heppner Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Hughes was a native of Illinois, being born in Mt. Vernon on May 17, 1859. She was married to Sam Hughes Feb. 9, 1882 in Wright county, Mo. and they came to Spray in 1884. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Florence Paul of Heppner and Mrs. R. J. Juday of Portland, a son, Frank Hughes, and a half brother, Hanson Walker, besides several nephews and nieces in Missouri.

Mrs. Hughes was a lifelong member of the Methodist church and was a faithful attendant and worker as long as physically able to carry on.

Cohn leader assisted by Mrs. Alva Jones. Donations and sales resulted in a tidy sum to be used in giving aid and comfort to world war veterans.

Justice Hager in Role of P'leeceman

Normally the function of a justice of the peace is to "put the B" on the guys the peace officers bring before him for misdemeanors of one kind or another, but in the case of Justice of the Peace J. O. Hager, it is not a matter of waiting until the police show up if he thinks someone needs attention from the arm of the law.

Hager was downtown Saturday evening and saw a man in a condition he considered unsafe to drive a car. Said man was about to take off in a car when the JP approached him and detained him. The guy had no chance. The JP was his own witness, the arresting officer and the one to say "$... and costs."

J. H. Padberg returned to Heppner Wednesday after spending several months in the hospital in Pendleton. He is considerably improved and withstood the trip in good shape, climbing the stairs to the apartment in the Gilman building with a little assistance. People of County Apathetic Toward E Bond Buying

Purchases to Date Only 35 Percent Of $248,000 Quota

With the bond campaign time more than 50 percent gone, Morrow county is able to show only 35 percent of the E bonds sold out of a quota of $248,000 and 42 percent of the total bond quota of $353,000. Those were the figures submitted this afternoon by P. W. Mahoney, county war finance chairman, who states that buying will have to pick up within the next few days if we are to avoid a house to house canvass.

Less interest has been manifested in the 7th war loan campaign than in previous drives and war finance officials are hopeful that people will awaken from their lethargy and cross the goal before the final hour arrives.

According to Chairman Mahoney total sales to date of E bonds are $87,281, or a trifle over one-third of the quota. Sales of other types of bonds are $61,280 out of a quota of $105,000.

The same complaint is registered by officials as in previous bond sale periods—too few people making purchases. Efforts to impress individuals with the necessity for investing their surplus money in bonds have not been as successful as desired. In the present campaign special stress is placed upon the necessity of all-out buying if we are to bring the war to a close reasonably early.

Today's newspapers carried the report that Hood River county has passed its E bond quota, while the state has reached 59 percent of its quota. "We will have to accelerate our buying tempo if we reach our goal and thus help place the state in a more favorable light," Mahoney concluded.

Car Thieves Busy Over Week-end

Car thievery has broken out in Heppner following a lapse of several years and two cars were stolen over the week-end. In both cases it was apparent that the thieves had no intention of driving out of the country, having "borrowed" the cars for a joyride.

The James Hager car disappeared Saturday night and was found next day near the stock corrals in North Heppner. The tank was dry but otherwise the car suffered no particular damage.

Sunday night the Harold Evans car was appropriated and driven some distance. The borrower, or borrowers, appear to have driven until the gas was nearly exhausted and then returned the vehicle and parked it in front of the Curran apartments.

Officials have a list of possibilities they are working on but up to press time no arrests had been made.

WOOLGROWERS PLAN TEA FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Woolgrowers auxiliary is holding its annual social meeting Friday afternoon June 8 at the Orville Smith home from 2 to 5. This organization is not for wool growers exclusively but is a community civic club open to all women of the county. Anyone interested is welcome.
