With the closing of the spring term at the various colleges the home town streets are beginning to blossom with familiar faces. Among those seen the past few days are Joene Brown, Marjorie Sims and Betty Adams, Oregon State; Loma Mae Jones, Northwest Christian college, Eugene; Don Turner, University of Oregon and Kathryn Turner from the University of Washington.

Mrs. Henry Happold is beaming on all this week as the result of the baby girl Judith Kay, who arrived June 16. The young lady is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. James Bradford of Portland. Mrs. Bradford will be remembered as Miss Betty Happold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Happold. If the mother and daughter are doing as well as the grandmother, that's good.

Summer vacations are in order these days so Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Horn and daughter Dianne spent a pleasant week in Portland returning to the job in the local Red and White grocery on Monday. Mr. Van Horn is manager of the store.

A baby girl, Patricia Ann, was born at the Corda Saling home on June 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mahon.

Fishing may be great sport, but certainly it has its rugged aspects too, as two men can testify. Elmer Peterson, Lexington, broke his leg Sunday while fishing in Rhea Creek and Roy Gentry sprained his ankle the same day doing the same thing.

J. L. Hall was called to Vancouver Friday because of the illness of his father, James Hall. The elder Hall suffered a stroke recently and his condition was serious. He showed some improvement before Scotty left for home Sunday.
