Gabbert Tells of Work Being Done For Limbless Vets

veterans of World War II with special emphasis on those who suffered loss of limbs was the subject noon. Because he wears two artificial limbs as a result of injuries in World War I, Gabbert was delegatpaign to give aid and comfort to men who have lost one or more limbs in the present conflict.

In brief, the object of his visits to the hospitals where these men have been and are being treated, is to help prepare them to help them_ selves when they are released from hospitalization. The use of artificial limbs is demonstrated and suggestions offered for overcoming the handicap of losing arms or legs. Another man who lost both arms in the first world war demonstrates the use of a new type of artificial hand which is not a hand but more of a hook. The things he can do are really marvelous, Gabbert said, and his demonstrations are a great uplift to the boys. The two Legion men visit government hospitals all over the country visiting army and navy men alike.

Dr. Marvin Amick, who is visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Tibbles. was a guest at the luncheon. He is from Montana and was a classmate of the Heppner physician.

The club set Monday, Aug. 27, as the date for entertaining the Ro. deo queen and attendants at luncheon. There will be no meeting on Monday, Sept. 3.
