When Does A War End?

CHILDREN — just like your own, except that they talk a foreign tongue—are starving, dying of cold, in allied countries ravaged by the war. The war isn't over for them—or for the many war-relief agencies that help them. These war-relief programs can only be kept going through your contributions.

THE WAR has ended in many places. But its effects haven't. Millions of our boys must remain scattered over the earth — thousands of miles away. One of their nearest contacts with home is the U.S.O., which brings American cheer to American boys through Camp Shows given for them. The U.S.O. operates on your dollars.

OUR SHIPS — manned by our men — will be docking at foreign ports for many months to come. The men who man them are not military personnel, but their work is every bit as vital. One place they can go for relaxation is to the clubhouses operated by United Seamen's Service. The U. S. S. needs your help, too.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED veterans still have a long way to go, to get all the way back to civilian life. To help them, Veterans' Information Service has been established. It cannot function without your help. You help many a boy get properly started again, when you give to your local Community War Fund.

HOSPITALS for the wounded and maimed will not find their work finished when the war ends. Many servicemen will remain in their charge for years to come. To help them recuperate, the U.S.O. sends entertainers to bring them amusement, talk with them, brighten their days. Your contribution helps make this work possible.

RIGHT IN YOUR OWN community, there are troubles that have not ended. Family service, hospital and clinical services, visits by trained nurses, care for children right here in our own community, are still needed. These services are rendered by our own local agencies. They, too, need your help.
